BANKS TO DISTRIBUTE $250,000 CLUB FUND

FIRE SOLO EXPECTED TO WAGE WAR

Ousted Senators Will Exert Power to Block New Regime

EXTRA SESSION

Fine Hand of Col. Harvey Is Seen In Reorganization.

BY ROBERT T. SMALL
WASHINGTON—(Special)—
And now for the fire works!
There never has been at any time a thought that the short session of congress, opening Monday, would be a pink-tea affair. But now that a majority of the Republicans have thrown four of their insurgent colleagues in the senate out of the party by the scrutiny of the neck, the chances for a few "high spots" are exceedingly promising.

The action of the Republican conference virtually means that all hope of general legislation, constructive or otherwise, at the coming session, has been thrown to the winds. Without Senator La Follette, Brookhart, Ladd and Frazier, the Republicans have no working majority. Today they are "without" these four senators by an almost overwhelming vote of the conference.

Having thrown down the gauntlet to the La Follette wing, the regulars have virtually told them to do their worst between now and March 4 next. The ousted senators are quite competent in that respect.

PROBLEMS PENDING
Therefore Washington feels today more confident than ever that President Coolidge will have to call a special session of congress next April or May to take up pressing problems of legislation, including tax revision. It is entirely possible that the senate may be unable to pass the usual supply bills by March 4 because of the "frictions" within the seemingly Republican majority.

The regular Republicans defend their action by saying they never intend to support the four senators anyhow, and could not count upon it in the future. Some of the more temperate members of the C. O. P. were inclined to hold out the olive branch. They thought the insurgents would come penitently back into the fold.

They recalled the fact that Theodore Roosevelt once led an armed revolt against the Republican party, but afterward was welcomed back with open arms.
They recalled that Col. Roosevelt's turning name on the progressive ticket in 1912 was none other than Sen. Hiram Johnson of California, now a respected and respectable member of the Republican majority.

It also was argued by the moderates of the party that La Follette and his crew only "tried" to sway the Republican party.
Colonel Roosevelt and Hiram Johnson succeeded in their purpose and put the C. O. P. ship hard on the rocks for eight long and weary years.

COOLIDGE'S HANDS OFF
A week ago there was every reason to believe that the Republican would prevail in the Republican conference. Why the sudden change therefore to right-wing militancy which sent the four backsliders to the guillotine without a hearing and without benefit of clergy?

Official Washington thinks it tells a tale.
President Coolidge took absolutely no part in the chastisement which was worked against him.
He refused to be drawn into the discussion in any way, shape or manner. He maintained that the senate always had had the unalienable right to purge its members. The legislative is one branch of the government; the executive is another. President Coolidge thinks these constitutional divisions should be maintained.

But, here's the rub. A certain editor-friend of the president has been belaboring the regular Republicans with whip and spur these last few days. This editor is known as being very close to Mr.
Coolidge in a political sense. He has even dined at the White House. He was also the great friend and counselor of President Harding, who gratified the journalist's long-time ambition to be at the Court of St. James.

CRASH VICTIMS BURIED

Body of Lima Woman Sent to Spencerville

DAYTON—(By Associated Press)—Funeral services were conducted late Saturday for Mrs.
Charles Fagen, 39, actress, Milford, Conn., one of the victims of the crash at Eaton, O., early Saturday, when two automobiles carrying members of a comedy troupe collided with a Pennsylvania train at the Main-st. crossing.

The other victim was Miss Pearl Att, of Lima, O. The body of Miss Att was sent to Spencerville, O., for burial.

Five members of the automobile party, which was formed by members of the company appearing at a theatre here, were injured seriously. They are:

Miss Helen Miller, 26, actress,
Boston, Mass., both legs broken; Neil Kotler, Dayton, bruised and cut; Ray West, Dayton; Charles Fagen, 39, actor, and Masie Hunt, 23, actress, Allentown, Pa., fractured skull and internal injuries.

The injured with the exception of Miss Hunt were taken to the Reid Memorial hospital. Miss Hunt is at Miami Valley hospital.
Other occupants of the automobiles included Harry Meenach, proprietor of a local garage; Harriet Lee, member of the theatrical company; Edna Robie, and Al Cain, of Springfield, also of the company, and Rose Att and Gertrude Vell, Dayton.

The two cars were speeding, it was said, when they crashed into the leader of the Pennsylvania train. Both machines were hurled down the tracks and the occupants crushed when the cars overturned.

Meenach is said to have been driving one of the machines. He returned to Dayton. West was the driver of the other car.

Mrs. Fagen, whose stage name is Ruth Jeanette, is the wife of Fagen.

One of the members of the party said they left Dayton after the Friday night show for a fun on the Evans pike near Richmond, where they had ordered a dinner.
They were on their way to the inn, going west, at the time of the accident.

Fagen, altho his wife lay dead, and he himself was injured, took his usual part as comedian in the show at the matinee performance.

YOUTH IS SHOT

Harold Watkins Is Recovering
at City Hospital

Harold Watkins, 13, son of Mrs.
K. M. Watkins, 1022 W. Springfield, was shot in the shoulder while hunting Saturday in the country near Lima.

Watkins was removed to Lima City hospital, where it was announced Saturday night his condition was improved and recovery is assured.

According to the story told by the mother, the boy was engaged in a day's hunt with a companion.
She refused to disclose the name of the person who shot her son, but declared that the shooting was accidental.

DIMMING LAW TO BE ENFORCED

Ultimatum Given as Result of Many Accidents

CODE VIOLATED

City Wide Survey Shows Motorists to Be Careless

"Dim your lights or face Judge Poling in criminal court."

This is the ultimatum issued Saturday by Chief of Police T. A.
Lanker as the result of a number of accidents and one death either directly or indirectly brought about by glaring headlights on automobiles.

Motorists have been failing to observe the state and city traffic codes which require that headlights be dimmed when automobiles approach within 250 feet of each other, Lanker asserted.

"During the past few days I have driven from one end of the city to the other and observed the flagrant violations of the law," Chief Lanker said, in explaining his action. "Sometimes a score of automobiles would pass a street intersection before one would come along with the lights dimmed."

"We have warned drivers dozens of times, but also they listen and appear to be determined to obey the law, we find them up to their old tricks right away," he added. "They will feel differently after we have haled them into court a few times."

Lanker's investigation has shown him that most of the older drivers have formed the habit of driving with the dimmers on all the time they are inside the city limits and are careful to obey the law when traveling on the main highways.

The offenders, as a general rule, he says, are youths who have the "speed bug" and are also violating the law regarding the limitation of speed. Police records show, Lanker said, that motorists involved in accidents are generally youthful and careless.

To be absolutely safe every motorist should use the dimmers exclusively while inside the city limits, Lanker asserts, and where this is done there will be no possibility of forgetting to dim when approaching another auto.

"Just because the police have been disposed to be lenient in the matter is no reason for failure to comply with the law," Chief Lanker said. "From now on we will be on the lookout for those who fail to dim and they will be required to face the local criminal court."

BODY OF FORMER CHIEF FOUND

North Country Has Second Mystery to Unravel

WARROAD, Minn.—A story of another mysterious death in the northwest angle country was brought here today by travelers who told of finding of the dismembered body of the Cyclone Island band of Indians, near his home just over the Canadian border.

Minnesota officials are investigating the death of Mrs. Dean Wheeler of Clearwater, Kan., whose body was found with a knife wound in a cabin on the Minnesota side. A coroner's jury held an accident was responsible for her death, but relatives expressed dissatisfaction, and the investigation was reopened.

The story of the Indian's death, the travelers say, involves comity between the former chief and his son, Tom, who at the last tribal election, won the title of chief from his father. Shortly after the election the elder Indian disappeared.

Tom Penassee said his father had started out to trap muskrats, but when the old man failed to return by mid-summer, the Indians began to whisper that young Tom caused his father's disappearance. The young chief squashed the talk by declaring that he had heard from his father who was then at Casslake.

COUPLE WEDDED
ST. MARYS—(Special)—

Get Out Your Snow Shovels, Police Warn

Get out your snow shovels.
Gently falling snow late Saturday night and early Sunday morning covered the city with a white blanket.

Sidewalks were the first consideration as householders looked from their windows early Sunday morning. It was the first real snow of the year.

Police issued the first of their winter warnings when they saw the fall would be more than the two inches minimum established before it is necessary to clean walks in order to evade the penalties of the law.

Should property owners and business houses fail to remove the layer of snow in a reasonable time after the fall ends, police will check up on delinquents and order them into court Monday.

HOSPITAL PLANS ANNUAL FETE

Dec. 12-13 Dates Selected for Board's Bazaar

MRS. LONG IN CHARGE

Tuberculosis Institute to Benefit from Proceeds

Preparations are practically complete for the annual bazaar of the Ladies' Board of the Tuberculosis hospital, which is to be held on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 12 and 13, in the Western Hotel, 112 and W. Market-st., it was announced late Saturday by Mrs. Matilda Long, president of the board.

Other officers of the board in charge of the bazaar are Mrs. A.
S. Bowers, vice-president; Mrs.
H. N. Wigglesworth, secretary, and Mrs. Frank Keve, treasurer.
Mrs. Elias Bowsher has been appointed chairman of the ways and means committee and Mrs. J.
P. Edmundson is assistant chairman.

According to Saturday's announcement arrangements have been made to construct six booths and install a temporary cafeteria in the building. Mrs. Matthew McNamara has been placed in charge of the cafeteria, assisted by Mrs. Wigglesworth.

WORKERS NAMED
Booths will be installed as follows:

Fancy Work—In charge of Mrs. E. D. Arnold assisted by Mrs. Tom O. Peat, Mrs. George Ambros and Mrs. Charles Bobbenmeyer.

Baked Goods—In charge of Mrs. A. E. Shindler, assisted by Mrs. John Pollabel, Mrs. Charles
Haines and Mrs. R. Y. Bennett.

Aprons—In charge of Mrs.
Amelia Stewart, assisted by Mrs.
R. D. Mundhenk, Mrs. F. C.
Smith and Mrs. Charles Buebell.

Miscellaneous—In charge of Mrs. Samuel Blattner, assisted by Mrs. Leonard Walther, Mrs. Edgar Smith and Mrs. Frank Engler.

Candy—In charge of Mrs.
J. K. Yant, assisted by Mrs. C.
C. Crossley, Mrs. John Gephart and Mrs. L. N. Schroeder.

Grab Bag—In charge of Mrs.
Frank Keve, assisted by Mrs.
Ray Copeland and Mrs. Charles Haines.

Cafeteria—In charge of Mrs.
S. S. Wheeler, chairman; Mrs.
E. A. Keifer, Mrs. Bello Thomas,
Mrs. Edith Mofford, Mrs. A. S.
Bowers, Mrs. Wm. Klingner, Mrs.
Eva Files, Mrs. J. P. Reid, Mrs.
Rosella Harriet.

WOMAN IS HELD

Embezzlement at Elks Home Charged in Complaint

Ruth Gilliland, 23, an employee of the Elks home, pleaded not guilty to a charge of embezzling $330 before Justice of Peace W. H. Guyton, Saturday, and was released on $300 bond.
She will have a hearing during the coming week, Judge Guyton announced.

The girl was arrested on complaint of Frank A. Hitchcock, secretary of Lima Lodge. She appeared in court voluntarily after Joe Hoover, constable, arresting officer failed to locate her. She has been partially in charge of the club cafe since service was resumed, it was learned, but is said to have formerly worked in the office.

9,000 LIMA PERSONS TO GET CHECKS

Fund Available for Early Shopping Previous to Holiday Rush

NEW RECORD SET

Complete Payments by End of Week Assured
By Bankers

More than $250,000, representing the Christmas saving funds accumulated in Lima banks and building and loan associations in the past year, will be paid to depositors during the coming week.

Checks were mailed out Saturday by several banks in the city and the remaining institutions will pay off Christmas club members early in the week.

Practically all of the money will be available for purchase of gifts before Tuesday or Wednesday, and afford depositors an opportunity to shop while Christmas stocks are complete.

The total money paid out is larger this year than ever before, and will place a ready supply of cash in circulation over the holidays.

The individual checks, according to bankers, range from a few cents to several hundred dollars and more than 9,000 persons in Lima and vicinity will receive Christmas savings checks.

NEW CLUBS FORMED
More than 100,000, it is announced, will be paid to the 4,000 members of the Christmas club operated by the Lima Trust Co. Checks were mailed Saturday, Howard P. Dean, vice-president, stated.

The Old National Bank also sent out checks Saturday to 2,500 Christmas savings depositors, the total of which aggregates approximately $60,000. Earl Robb, manager of the savings department, declared.

Checks to club members will be sent out Monday or Tuesday by the Lima Dime Savings Bank, the youngest bank in the city.
About $20,000 will be distributed among more than 700 persons.

Ernest Mae, cashier, announced the Christmas club checks, totaling many thousands, will be mailed out by the First American Bank & Trust Co. on Monday. Several building and loan associations which operate Christmas clubs, are also planning to pay off during the week.

Simultaneous with the disbursement of the Christmas savings for the past year, new clubs are being formed for 1925. The banks are also planning to open vacation savings clubs, for benefit of persons who want to accumulate a fund for a mid-summer trip.

CITY EMPLOYEES TO GET PAY

"Sufficient Money for 1924," Auditor Declares

Faced with the prospect of borrowing sufficient money to tide the city over the first two months of 1925, the city will pull thru this year without incurring any additional indebtedness and all municipal payrolls will be met without resorting to banks for aid.
"We have enough money to pay all city employees during December," Auditor C. H. Churchill stated Saturday. "The first few months of 1925 and the condition at the end of the year is what is worrying me."

Complete checkup of outstanding bills against the city and an estimate on approximate operating expense for the ensuing month is being completed at the auditor's office for the closing of the year, so that all outstanding obligations possible can be paid.

Action of the city toward alleviating the financial stringency in 1925 depends entirely on county officials in expediting the revaluation, according to City Manager C. A. Bingham, who claims that if the taxation return from the county is not received before March, as County Treasurer Harry Botkins announced, the city will be compelled to appeal to the banks for aid to meet maturing bonds and interest amounting to approximately $400,000 in addition to the monthly operating expense.

SHE'S BLONDE IN "MR. A." CASE

Mrs. Maude Robinson

England, the past week, has been stirred by the most sensational case in its legal history with the hearing of a suit growing out of a case of blackmail involving hundreds of thousands of dollars and the famous "Mr. A." a spin of India, whose name was withheld from publication because of fears of international complications which
woman in the case and was used by a group of men to mislead
"Mr. A." out of thousands after he had been found in the room of a Paris hotel with her. She was referred to during the testimony as the "plump blonde."

"Mr. A." Case Is Chapter In Legal History

LONDON—(Special)—When some day the whole story of the Midland Bank trial comes out it will prove to be an important chapter in the history of the British empire.

The mysterious "Mr. A." is an oriental potentate who has been extremely useful for British propaganda among Great Britain's Moslem subjects. For this reason the whole power of the British government's diplomacy has been exerted to save him from exposure.

SECRET QUESTION
The famous secret questions which were so delicate they could only be transmitted to the jury in writing were suppressed not so much on account of their delicacy as because their publication would make the case more political than civil.

The notorious Newton, who was described in open court as "the greatest scoundrel unhung," is a resident of Paris and was paid $15,000 to go to London to testify. The money was paid by the Midland bank, but at the government's behest. It was said that Newton risked being arrested for blackmail, but the writer has talked with high British authorities and learns that Newton has been assured immunity provided he remains to testify against his co-conspirators who doubtless will be arrested within the next few days.

SPENT MILLIONS
The British government has spent millions of pounds, according to trustworthy information, in building up "Mr. A." as one of England's foremost black gentlemen, and when the present scan-daly broke it was feared that all this effort had been wasted.

That and that alone, explains all the secrecy surrounding the trial and the extraordinary procedure of having one of the principal characters mentioned by initial only and of having one of the crucial questions put to the jury in writing, to say nothing of granting immunity to "the greatest scoundrel yet unhung."

CLUE TO SLAYER IS SOUGHT

Letters Left By Man Subject of Contest

LOS ANGELES—William E.
Foe, banker of San Gabriel, found mysteriously slain in the San Bernardino mountains last Tuesday, was buried from his San Gabriel home near here late Saturday with simple ceremonies and only members of his family and a few intimate friends attending.

In her Alhambra home, a few miles from the graveside, Mary Watkins, young San Gabriel business woman charged by the widow with coming between the husband and wife, had retired into seclusion.

All inquiries were met by her sister with the statement that Mary Watkins could not be seen and that on the advice of her attorney, she had nothing to say.

In San Bernardino, seat of the county in which Foe was killed, a contest was in progress all day between Sheriff W. A. Shay and attorneys for Miss Watkins over a packet of letters seized yesterday by the sheriff in the San Gabriel safe deposit box, said to have been used jointly by the girl and the slain banker.

From San Quentin state prison came a new angle of the case.
Search of the records were revealed that last April a convict had been released, who, officers said, had threatened to "get" Foe.

His name was Edgar B. Claude.
Aug. 20, 1921, he had attempted to rob Foe's San Gabriel bank, was arrested and prosecuted and finally convicted not on the hold-up charge, but on one alleging theft of an automobile. He was sentenced from one to ten years in San Quentin and was released after a prison record of good conduct, last April.

Officers are attempting to check his subsequent movements.
Meanwhile officials at San Bernardino reported today that no clues to the Foe killing justify any arrests had been found.

DOUBLE CROSSWORD
PUZZLE NEXT THING

PRINCETON, N. J.—The
crossword puzzle wave has swept across faculty and students of Princeton University to the department of philosophy where Professor Warner Fite, has offered a prize to the student who can devise a puzzle capable of two separate solutions. Such a problem, Professor Fite asserts, would have a great philosophical value.

Professor Robert K. Rort of the English department recently announced his willingness to adopt the puzzles as part of the term work in some of his courses provided some one could be found to construct puzzles sufficiently difficult for the test at the end of the term.

WIFE NEAR DEATH FROM POISON GAS

Tragedy Discovered by Neighbors In Breaking Down Doors

FLUE DEFECTIVE

Husband Believed to Have Attempted to Save Self—Mate

LEIPSIC—(Special)—Davis
Ash, 74, retired farmer, was approximately carbon monoxide gas at his home here Saturday morning and his wife, Mrs. David Ash, 70, hovers near death from gas poisoning with physicians despairing of her life. Escaping fumes from a coal stove in the dining room of the home caused the tragedy.

Discovery of the tragedy was made Saturday morning when neighbors, alarmed by the non-appearance of the aged couple, broke down the doors of the home and entered the gas filled dining room.

Lifeless body of Ash was discovered at the head of the stairway on the second floor of the home a few feet distant from the bedroom door which was standing ajar. The woman was found unconscious in bed with the windows secured and the room filled with deadly fumes.

Indications discovered in the home lead to the belief that a defective chimney forced the fumes from the smoldering fire thru the open stove door into the bedroom located at the top of the stairway which led from the dining room where the stove, burning hard coal, was kept.

Belief that Ash detected the gas and was overcome while attempting to close the stove door or else open a ground floor door to ventilate the gas filled house is the outgrowth of the discovery of his body at the head of the stairway.
Theory is that he reached that spot and was overcome.

Neighbors in entering the house were forced outside for fresh air before the interior of the structure was sufficiently ventilated to remove all possibilities of gas poisoning.

WELL KNOWN
Mr. and Mrs. Ash had resided in Leipsic for many years and were numbered among the leading citizens of the town. Ash had been retired for a number of years.

He is survived by two children,
Miss Mary Ash of Piquette and Mrs. Harry Nemire, of Blanchard.
Mrs. Ash has one daughter, Mrs.
William Hathorn, of McComb.

Funeral services for Ash will be conducted at 1:30 p. m. Monday at the Methodist church in Leipsic with Rev. R. C. Moon, pastor, in charge. Interment will be in Christ cemetery, east of Leipsic.

In event Mrs. Ash dies before the funeral of her husband, a double funeral will be held at a later date, it was announced here late Saturday night when the woman's condition remained grave.

WARNING GIVEN BY SUTTER

Gas Leaks and Motor Exhaust Cause Many Deaths

Two outstanding "don'ts" in prevention of fatalities from gas during winter months, if followed here, will reduce the death list,
Dr. J. J. Sutter, county health commissioner, warns.

"Curiosity of persons in lighting matches in air tight cellars to discover a gas leak is the principal cause of many deaths in winter weather," the health officer claims, as his first "don't" to the public.

The second "don't" is aimed at

COURTHOUSE HIT BY FUND LACK

Elevator Installation Seemingly Remote This Year

JUDGES FAVOR PROJECT

Proposed Improvements for Building Abandoned

Installation of an elevator in the court house must wait for at least another year on account of lack of money, county commissioners asserted Saturday in discussing plans for continuing work of modernizing the building.

Their decision will be greeted with dismay by persons of corpulent proportions who have business to transact in offices on the upper floors. They will have to walk up until at least 1928 unless one of two things happen. Commissioners may either retreat from their announced stand on the elevator question and issue bonds to defray the expense of putting in lifts, or judges of the third district appeals court may take the matter into their own hands and order an elevator installed.

The latter contingency is most likely to happen as commissioners say they are opposed to issuing bonds. There can be money enough in the building fund for either half year to pay for an elevator, they say.

NEW QUARTERS
Commissioners are less interested in an elevator to serve the upper floors of the building than ever before. They moved into new quarters on the second level for either half year to pay for an elevator, they say.

The new rooms are close to offices of the county surveyor on the same floor and only one flight down from the county auditor and treasurer. Most of the business of the commissioners is with those officials.

New furniture for the commissioners' offices is to be bought soon, bids having been asked from dealers. Commissioners have three rooms including a private office, an inner office, and a large room for holding public hearings.

The single office formerly occupied by the second floor has been turned over to J. L. Main, state inspector of accounts, and later may be taken over by the county treasurer.

Walter W. Craig, whose term as commissioner expires Jan. 1, is to take up his duties as treasurer next September.

Commissioners will have to act on the matter of an elevator if judges of the court of appeals order one put in.

FLOOR VACANT
It was learned Saturday that the three jurists are considering acting in the matter. Judges, Phil M. Kenney, Ernest W. Worden, and John C. Thompson, all are in favor of elevator service.

They have the power to order the improvement made, and the commissioners, under the law, must comply with their request.

Aside from laying a tile floor in the lower corridor, no improvement can be made on the building until an elevator is installed.

If the improvement is made the fourth floor of the building can be finished. At present the space is used for storage.

Frank Leech, county architect, estimates an elevator can be put in for $12,000. The space in use by stairs can be converted into an elevator shaft. No plans have been drawn.

Jilts Suitor On Day Set For Wedding

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Mystery surrounding the sudden disappearance of Miss Jane Conley, pretty Columbus girl, was cleared Saturday night when she sent a telegram to her mother here from Buffalo telling of her marriage to another suitor, Arthur C. House.

"Mr. House and I married Thanksgiving day," she wrote, and told you where to send the trunk," the message read.

Straw, worn, nervous and disappointed, left for his home Saturday night just a few hours before the telegram arrived. Before he departed, however, he declared he would make no further effort to locate the girl, who was pledged to him Thanksgiving day.

Formal announcement of Miss Conley's engagement to Straw was made last August. Guests had been invited for a wedding supper at the Conley home Thanksgiving evening and Straw was there.

According to Mrs. Elizabeth Conley, Mrs. House's mother, her daughter had "kept company" with both House and Straw until within a week of her wedding day when she told House that she was going to marry Straw.

OFFICERS PRESENT FOR NATIONAL GUARD MEETING
COLUMBUS — Brig. Gen. Frank D. Henderson, adjutant general of Ohio, and Col. E. S. Thatcher, commanding the 134th Ohio Field Artillery, who were in Baltimore Saturday for the Army-Navy football game, will be joined at Philadelphia tomorrow by 17 other officers of the Ohio National Guard as delegates to the convention of the National Guard Association of the United States. The meeting will be terminated Wednesday.

Major Gen. Benson W. Rough, Ohio's guard commander, will not attend, as federal duties make it necessary for him to remain in Columbus. It is thought that he and fellow officers will take steps toward being the 1925 convention to Ohio, Columbus being the most desirable for holding the

St. Marys Boasts Modern Educational Plant

ST. MARYS — (Special) — Memorial High school here is assuming a more settled and beautiful aspect. Grading has been completed and sod will be placed and grass seed planted. Concrete approaches will also be placed.

More than 400 pupils from this city and the surrounding district are being accommodated daily in the new structure. In the accompanying picture one of the classrooms is shown.

Many of the latest features are combined in this structure which cost $300,000. An auditorium in the rear is said to be of the most recent practice.

It is admitted by his enemies that the colonel wields a wicked pen. Only on Friday morning he chided the Republicans with not having the nerve to throw the "house" out.

WIM TURNS
"All signs," he said, "tend to confirm the anticipation that the 40 or more Republicans who presumably were faithful to Coolidge and Davies will, in fear and trembling, either wholly ignore or cravenly sidestep the vital issue which stares them in the face."

Under the colonel's lash the senate "crums" turned and bit the insurgents a powerful bite. Maybe the colonel did not reflect the thoughts of the president, and again maybe he did. In any event the senators thought the voice was coming from close enough to the throne to be heeded.

STATE GRADS IN BANQUET HERE
Alumni of Five Counties to Meet in Lima Friday

Alumni of Ohio State university from Allen, Hancock, Hardin, Putnam and Van Wert counties will meet at 6 p. m. Friday, at the Barr hotel in one of more than 100 "Ohio State Day" dinners being planned throughout the country.

John Crow, president of the Allen County Alumni association of Ohio State university, announced Saturday.

An extensive program has been arranged for the occasion. Keith DeVoe, formerly of Central High school and now a student in the dental college and a member of the football team, will be the guest of honor. Speech of Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of Ohio State, will be heard over the radio from Pittsburgh, where he will address the Shuok City alumni at the same time. Music by the university glee club, band and orchestra will be furnished by Mr. Felix Hall, faculty member, who will be received over the radio.

Larger Ohio cities where meetings are scheduled include Springfield, Canton, Toledo, Lima, Mansfield, Wooster, Cleveland, Lancaster, Steubenville, Bucyrus, Marion, Cincinnati and Chillicothe.

DEBT INCREASES
COLDWATER — (Special) — County Auditor Henry Forsthouse has made public figures showing an increase in indebtedness over 1923 for Mercer county. The total amount of $66,202.12. The total indebtedness at present is $2,266,009.12 or at the rate of $34 per person living in the county. Tax payers are paying $37.66 per day interest.

BURIED UNDER PILE OF BILLS
NEW YORK — A middle-aged woman of apparent recent death was held in a Brooklyn hospital Saturday after being found by a policeman lying face upward in a field under a $700 pile of bills and $5 bank notes. Her chest was further protected against the cold by a pile of $100 bills and a bank book showing deposits of $1,200 in the name of Minnie Griffin.

She said her name was Minnie Griffin, but at the address she gave as her home it was said she was not known. She offered no explanation of the blanket of money.

Music Lovers Mourn Death Of Composer

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Giacomo Puccini, the Italian composer who died in Brussels Saturday, was mourned by New York's many musicians and music lovers, not a few of whom knew him well.

Tullio Serafin, Metropolitan Opera conductor who is in his first season here, said that Puccini's passing meant a great loss because he was "the composer of the present and because he understood the theatre best."

"I knew him for many years," Serafin continued. "I conducted his 'Madama Butterfly' in its second performance at the Lascalle opera house in the Golden West."

Madame Frances Alda, opera star and wife of Giulio Gatti-Casazza, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera House, also mourned Puccini as a personal friend.

"I think," she said, "he was the greatest of Italian composers and that he did more for Italian music since the death of Verdi than any other man."

Coming from a family for which a century and a half produced a line of famous musicians, it was not surprising that Giacomo Puccini early showed signs of musical talent. He was one of the few composers of recent times whose opera successes were both numerous and lasting. Giulio Gatti-Casazza, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera House, once said Puccini was the most popular composer with Americans.

In his youth, Puccini was an artist whose riches were measured in terms of genius rather than in cash. He lived in an attic, where he found the problem of existence was not having too much of harmony and a contented point.

When Puccini had learned all that the schools of his native Lucca could teach him, his name won him a pension from the queen of Italy. This enabled him to enter the Milan Conservatory.

One of the unfinished efforts of Puccini was his "Edgar" produced at the Scala in 1893. Although he remained silent nearly four years the composer atoned for this failure with his "Manon Lescaut." This and his later works, including "La Boheme," "La Tosca," "Madama Butterfly" and "The Girl of the Golden West," proved popular successes.

PAROLE GRANTED LABOR HEAD

Robert P. Brindell to Leave Pen Dec. 26

OSHING, N. Y. — (By Associated Press) — Robert P. Brindell, former head of the New York Building Trades Council, has been ordered paroled from Great Meadow prison where he is serving sentences for extortion. It was learned at Sing Sing Saturday that Brindell's parole is to be effective on Dec. 26. The parole board, it was learned, acted in Brindell's case on Nov. 14, the day before it authorized the parole of William H. Anderson, former head of the Anti-Saloon League of New York state.

James J. Long, state superintendent of prisons and a member of the board said that no restrictions had been placed upon Brindell to prevent him from again becoming a "walking delegate" of a labor union, the post he was alleged to have used for private profit.

"The job of walking delegate is a legitimate one," Superintendent Long said. "We did not ask that he agree not to take such a position."

When he is paroled Brindell will have served three years, eight months and 23 days in the state prison. He entered Sing Sing April 4, 1921, to begin a sentence of five to ten years imposed by Supreme Court Justice McAvoy after his conviction on an extortion charge. Brindell was indicted on June 5, 1923, by the federal grand jury for perjury alleged to have been committed in Sing Sing June 16, 1921. He was accused of stating in his 1921 income tax return that his income in 1920 was $21,287 and his tax $1,358, whereas the reported income was $108,680 and the tax $36,368.

ASHES OF PUBLISHER PLACED IN CATHEDRAL
WASHINGTON — The urn containing the ashes of Herman J. Kohlsaat, Chicago publisher, who died here Oct. 17 at the home of Secretary Hoover, will be placed in the crypt of Washington cathedral "as an acknowledgment of his constructive moral influence as a citizen in government and journalism."

Woodrow Wilson and church dignitaries are buried in the cathedral vault, which lies beneath the floor of the center aisle of that part of the structure known as "Bethlehem or Nativity Chapel."

STORE TO HOLD ANNIVERSARY

Leader Store, 20 Years Old, to Celebrate

BUSINESS IS ENLARGED

MODERN FEATURES ARE ADDED IN EXPANSION

Twenty years ago there opened on Main-st, just north of the Public, a new department store. It occupied a small room, only 20 by 60 feet, and represented but a few hundred dollars. But year after year, that store has expanded until today it ranks as one of the finest and most up-to-date department stores in northwestern Ohio. It is the Leader Store, which is now celebrating its twentieth anniversary and "opening" after undergoing an extensive expansion program.

The store, which is the largest of its kind in the city, has been outfitted with the most modern equipment and arranged for the comfort of its patrons to the minutest detail. There is a splendid lighting system, which is an important feature in every business, wide, spacious aisles, enabling customers to shop conveniently and quickly if necessary, a large elevator and a host of efficient clerks.

NEW FLOORS ADDED
When Gus Holstine, the owner, opened the Leader Store in 1904, he employed but one clerk, but through faithful and honest service, he has enlarged his business until it is now necessary to employ almost 200 employees. Four years ago, his son, Elyon Holstine, became associated in the business, and in addition to acting as manager, does practically all of the buying.

During the recent expansion program, an entire new floor was added to the building, making five floors. The drapery, rug and lamp departments were moved, offering unlimited space for this important section.

Two innovations of especial interest are the beauty parlor and the children's playground, both located on the third floor. The beauty parlor is one of the most up-to-date in the city. It has five private booths, all modernly equipped, a barber chair in charge of an expert barber from Cleveland and a hair goods department.

Adding this is the playground where children may leave their parents while the mother is being manicured or are shopping. The remainder of the floor, with the exception of the cotton goods department, is given over entirely to children's and infants' merchandise.

Another new department is the "gift shop," located on the second floor. A large and beautiful selection of all kinds of gifts and novelties may be found there.

Plans are now being made for a tea room which will probably be added within a short time and thus complete the rebuilding program which has made the Leader one of the largest and most attractive department stores in this part of the state.

ROOF IS BURNED

$500 Loss in Saturday Fire at Delphos

DELPHOS — (Special) — Flames partially destroyed the roof and attic of the Dr. E. B. Mauk residence in W. Third-st. here Saturday afternoon. Sparks falling on the shingle roof are believed to have started the blaze.

The local fire department stopped the flames before much damage had been done. Total loss is estimated at approximately $500. It was announced by Dr. Mauk.

Snow Storm Grips East

BOSTON — (By Associated Press) — Rain and snow, which developed into a general snow storm as the hours advanced, enveloped New England tonight.

The first heavy snow fall of the year in New Hampshire and Vermont hit tonight. So heavy that telephone lines were out of commission and communication crippled.

A severe electrical storm visited Cape Cod and the island of Martha's Vineyard.

POLICE CAPTAIN SLAIN BY HIDDEN ASSAILANT

SCHNECTADY, N. Y. — Acting Police Captain Albert L. Youmans died in a hospital today of gunshot wounds suffered last night when he was fired on by an assailant hiding behind a wall. Police believe him the victim of a slaver hired to put an end to Youmans' drive against vice.

Patrolman John R. Flynn, who was Youmans' companion on a tour of inspection, is recovering from minor wounds. The policeman was walking down a culvert when the assailant fired both barrels of a shotgun loaded with hand filled slugs. Mayor Campbell late today issued an order for "a thorough cleanup of the city." Eight persons arrested during the day on vagrancy charges were sentenced to terms of ten to 100 days in jail.

GERMAN NOTE IS PUZZLE

PLYMOUTH, Vt. — Colonel John C. Colledge, father of the president, is looking for some one familiar with the German language and with German script. When he received in the mail Saturday a letter from somewhere in Germany he sought a translator. He could find nothing either in this village or in Ludlow, the nearest large town.

The postmark was so blurred that it was impossible to tell from what city the letter came and no one could decipher the name of the city as written in script inside or make out the signature. An appeal to the Ludlow high school brought the information that German is not taught there.

Chlorine Is Discarded As Treatment

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Treatment of respiratory disease by chlorine gas has been discarded here by the department of health, as worthless in most instances and harmful in some. It was said today.

Cessation of use of the gas treatment which was carried in two city clinics from June 1 to August 1, is announced in a report submitted to the health commissioner by Dr. Louis I. Harris, director of the bureau of preventable diseases. The report says that of 671 cases given the chlorine treatment only 6.8 per cent of the 506 patients who answered questionnaires were found to have been benefited.

The two gas clinics were established here after Doctor Sawyer and Vedell of the United States medical department reported that in their experiments 71.4 per cent of the 931 patients had been treated successfully.

The health department asserts that the treatment is actually harmful in asthma, hay fever and tubercular infection in which, in any case, the report says the result was beneficial but there was no proof that it was more so than a number of other accepted remedies would have been.

ATT FUNDAL TO BE TUESDAY

Final Rites to Be Held at Mother's Home Here

Funeral services for Miss Pearl Att, 123 N. Pierce-st, one of two women killed when two automobiles crashed into a speeding Pennsylvania train at Eaton, Ohio, early Saturday, will be held at the home here Tuesday at 10 a. m.

Rev. Warren L. Stevens, pastor of the family, will be in charge of the services. Burial will be in Spencerville immediately following the funeral here.

Besides the mother, Mrs. Lew Att, a sister Mrs. Goldie Winglepach and a brother, Ralph Att, survive. Mr. and Mrs. Winglepach and daughter, Sara Belle, arrived here Saturday morning from their home in Columbus and the brother is expected to reach here from Denver Monday afternoon.

Miss Att was well known in Lima and in Spencerville, her former home. The family had moved to Lima a few months ago. A sister, Lucille, was, until her death a year ago, a nurse at City hospital.

The young woman and a number of well known Dayton people, several of them actors in a theater here, had left the theater following the Friday night performance to take midnight dinner near Eaton. The accident occurred at one of the most dangerous crossings along the Pennsylvania lines.

EBERLE FUNERAL ON MONDAY

Youth Is Victim of Accident at Railroad Crossing

Funeral services for Howard Eberle, 19, of 1014 W. North-st, who was instantly killed Thursday night when an automobile which he was driving was struck by a B. & O. train at the Market-st. crossing, will be held Monday at 10 a. m. at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Swihart, with whom he resided.

Trinit, C. A. Rowand, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, will officiate. Interment will be in Woodlawn cemetery.

The accident occurred when Eberle drove his car on the tracks directly in the path of a northbound freight train after he had waited for another train to pass. It is thought that bright lights from a number of automobiles prevented him from seeing the headlights on the locomotive.

Charles Eberle, 17, a brother, and Wayne Pilker, 23, of 1546 W. Wayne-st, who were riding in the car, were only slightly cut and bruised.

MASONIC TEMPLE BURNS

YPSILANTI, Mich. — Fire of undetermined origin starting in the rear of the lodge room, destroyed the Masonic temple here Saturday night with an estimated loss of $140,000. The fire spread quickly to other parts of the building and caused the almost complete destruction of the temple. The Masonic temple was erected in 1909 and was insured.

RAILROAD MEN GET RAISE

Labor Board's Decision Affects 75,000 Workers

ENGINEEMEN BENEFITTED

Increase Amounts to About Five Per Cent

CHICAGO — Without having heard arguments in behalf of the workers, the United States railroad labor board tonight handed down a decision granting upwards of 75,000 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen wage increases of about five per cent, the increase depending about the scale agreed to between the New York Central railroad and its engine service employees.

WESTERN RAILROADS
About forty-five western railroads are affected by the decision. The union representatives had refused to appear before the board to present evidence, maintaining that the body was without jurisdiction and their appeal from a federal court order requiring their officers to appear before the board is to be carried to the United States supreme court.

The board based its decision on information obtained during a similar hearing some time ago. The dispute involved wage increases, the employees seeking the increase with the companies asking modifications in rates.

The rates of pay for engineers in passenger service varied from $6.15 a day to $7.16 a day, according to the type of engine, for firemen from $4.58 to $5.76 and for helpers, electric, from $4.56 to $4.88. A minimum of $7.00 for engineers and $5.25 for firemen was granted where earnings are based on mileage, overtime or other rules.

In freight service the wage range for engineers is from $6.44 a day to $6.76 according to the type of engine, while for firemen the rates run from $5.00 to $5.51 and for helpers from $5.00 to $5.16 while in the yard service the rates for engineers ran from $6.72 to $8.01, for firemen from $5.28 to $6.44 and for helpers from $5.23 to $5.44. Outside hostlers are given $5.23 a day, inside hostlers $5.28 and helpers $4.72.

For similar employees in freight service, the decision reads: YARDMEN — "For local or yard freight service, except where higher differentials exist, fifty-two cents per 100 miles or less for engineers, and forty cents per 100 miles or less for firemen, shall be added to the three-fifths rates according to class of engine; miles or over to be paid for yard service. Engineers and firemen in yard service were also awarded increases as were hostlers and their helpers."

SCHOONER SAFE

Reaches Port After Days of Battling Seas

HALIFAX, N. S. — (By Associated Press) — Towed into port here today 113 days out of Bermuda, most of which time she had been at the mercy of high gales, the 150-ton schooner "Altagracia," was libelled tonight for $1,000 representing wage and salvage claims.

The Altagracia left Bermuda for Halifax in ballast on August 16, in the twenty-sixth of that month she was overtaken by an offshore gale which stripped her of her sails and left her helpless near Nantuxet lightly with her sea anchor, her only hope of survival.

She had a reserve supply of canvas aboard and all hands were busy making new sails and bending them to the masts. But before her new sails could be taken her into port against offshore winds, another gale struck her, tearing her new canvas to ribbons and smashing her beams.

After that the little craft with its crew of eight men drifted for weeks at the mercy of the elements with the supply of water and provisions dwindling until to the vanishing point. Last Monday she was sighted by the Costa Rican steamer Homestead and taken in tow as salvage.

This morning the steamer towed its derelict prize into port and within a few hours libel proceedings were brought in the interests of the crew of the Homestead.

CLUE IS SOUGHT IN SLAYING OF CHEMIST

LOS ANGELES — The slaying of Fred W. Ferrer, French chemist, whose body was found yesterday in a suburban cottage has confronted southern California authorities with another murder mystery.

Police today worked upon the theory that Ferrer had been killed with the purpose of obtaining secret liquor formulae which he carried. Their investigation was handicapped by an inability to get more than meagre knowledge of the slain man's past life and habits.

Ferrer's wife, who knew but little about him, "he was my husband. It's all I know," she told police detectives.

Ferrer came to America five years ago from Toulouse, France. He was employed here as a chemist at a manufacturing plant.

DEDICATED TO HEALTH
ST. PAUL, Minn. — The six-week-old son of Governor and Mrs. J. A. O. Prens of Minnesota has been dedicated to the cause of health and named Jules Merke, which is Norwegian for Christmas, and it was announced today. The idea was suggested to the governor, he said, by the fact that a young Scandinavian postoffice clerk, Finar Holboell, invented the first Christmas seal sixteen years ago while working in the postoffice at Charlottenburg, Denmark.

GOLDWATER LEGIONAIRES PICK LEADERS FOR 1924

At the annual election of officers at Patriotism Post of American Legion, held at their home on S. Second-st, the following were elected to serve for the coming year: Commander, Robert H. Kallmeyer; first vice commander, Anthony Herbolter; second vice commander, Oscar L. Conte; adjutant, Ross Smith; treasurer, Celestine E. Herag; chaplain, J. Albert Vais; sergeant-at-arms, Leo Rossmart; executive committee, William A. Forthofel, Robert Giers and Leo Lingo; fair committee, Arnold Schick, C. H. Horing and Robert H. Kallmeyer.

In recognition of the good work done by Kallmeyer during the past year as commander of the post, he was elected without opposition. The legionnaires have elected a new treasurer and they are contemplating erecting a home of their own in the near future.

SEWER BIDS TO BE RECEIVED

$500,000 Sanitary Project to Come up Dec. 16 Week

Sewer and water main contracts, aggregating $500,000, for improvement of the western sewer district, will be sold by the county during the week of Dec. 16, J. H. Meyer, sanitary engineer, announced Saturday.

The sale will be divided into six contracts, Meyer said, for the convenience of bidders. Two contracts will cover sanitary sewers, two for storm sewers, one for water lines, and remaining contract for pumping stations.

Contracts will require delivery of material on the ground within 30 days, and an immediate start if weather conditions permit.

Exact date of the letting awaits word from Fuller & McClintock, on the amount of compensation for use of city lines. The firm

FUSS OVER CHRISTENING

Lawson Among World's Great Publicity Getters

BY ROBERT T. SMALL

Now that most of the Pacific coast north of the Tehachapi is either gnashing its teeth or smiling sardonically at the selection of the name Los Angeles for the ZK-3—our latest and most unbecoming Zeppelin—people are telling anew some of the stories that illustrate the boosting, the never-say-die spirit of the angels of Los Angeles.

One of the best of these is related by Royal D. Mead, sometimes of Honolulu, but more often recently of Washington, D. C. Mead tells of the man from Los Angeles visiting the Hawaiian islands and refusing absolutely to be impressed by any of the wonderful things he saw there. There was absolutely nothing in the beautiful Pacific paradise which could compare in any way with the lamp posts of Los Angeles.

GOOD FIREMEN

Finally the host of the booster vowed by the beach of Waikiki that he would make the visitor surrender. He put him on a boat and took him to the island of Hawaii to see the world famous volcano of Kilauea. The two trudged up to the crater and there looked down upon the steaming molten mass of lava, which has been bubbling and boiling through the centuries. The man from Southern California at last seemed impressed. The host had a triumphant note in his voice. "Well, now old man," he exclaimed, "you can't say that you have anything like that in Los Angeles, eh what?"

The visitor shook his head and pondered for a moment. "No," he said, "but I'll tell you what we have got; we've got a fire department that would put this thing out in 20 minutes."

The cities on the coast that do not think as much of Los Angeles as does Secretary Wilbur

FIRST SESSION OF EXPERTS STUDYING FARM PROBLEMS

wouldn't mind it so much if the Zeppelin merely were called "Los Angeles," meaning "The Angels," but when it is constantly referred to as "The Los Angeles," signifying that the name is taken wholly from the city, there is a disposition to rise up on the hind legs and howl.

Thomas W. Lawson, of "Frozen Finance" fame, who lies ill unto death in a Bar Harbor, Maine, hospital, was in his day the greatest exponent and beneficiary of publicity that the world has ever known. P. T. Barnum was a piker beside him. In the midst of his attacks upon Standard Oil, Amalgamated Copper and Wall Street in general, Sir Thomas Lipton issued one of his challenges for a race for the America's Cup. A coterie of Wall Street magnates, members of the New York Yacht Club, formed the usual syndicate to build a defending yacht.

Tom Lawson decided he would build one too. He spared no expense and when the designers and constructors turned over to him the Independence she was about as fine and graceful a yacht as ever touched salt water. Then came the squabble that

Lawson had been waiting for. The syndicate vowed they would not permit the Independence to compete in elimination trials as a defender. They intimated that Tom Lawson didn't "belong" in the best yachting circles. Lawson ranted and raved and gave out statements. He even inserted advertisements in the papers stating his contentions.

Eventually one of his friends came to him. "Tom," he said, "I believe you have convinced the committee; I think they are going to give your yacht a chance."

"Give, hell," replied Lawson. "You tell that committee with my compliments they can all go to the devil. Do they want to spoil my story?"

After a slight rebuff at the polls in New York state, young Col. Theodore Roosevelt has started once more in his father's footsteps by going to Louisiana on a hunting trip as the guest of Col. John M. Parker. It was down in Louisiana, or perhaps it was Mississippi, where the elder colored hunter bears so assiduously and spectacularly that the famous "Teddy" bears came into existence.

particular plans for the near future. He doesn't seem to want to go back to any job in the government until he is elected to one. Perhaps he will go hunting in Africa for big game next spring and then have the rest of his ammunition for another try at the governorship.

BAKED IN CAPITAL

Raymond T. Baker, director of the mint under President Wilson and prospective candidate for the United States senate from Nevada two years hence, is back in Washington after a long stay in his native west. Always one of the best dressed men in the Capitol, Ray is particularly effulgent these days in an array of autumn colors that would send the Prince of Wales back to his habordashers in floodly down-hearted and done completely in. Ray's democracy is unsullied. He says the Coolidge wave almost swept Nevada over the Sierras and into the Pacific ocean, but he and the rest of the boys will be rallying around the flag again two long years from now.

XMAS TREE TO GRACE STREETS

Adoption of Idea Depends on Action of Merchants

Efforts will be made at a meeting of the Associated Retail Credit Men's Association at the Barr Hotel at 6 p. m., Thursday to encourage them to carry out the idea of placing Christmas trees in front of business establishments in the downtown district during the Christmas season. James E. Morton, manager of the Lima board of commerce, said Saturday.

More than 125 heads of concerns and credit managers connected with the association will attend the meeting, Morton said. After the subject of retail credit has been discussed, the Christmas tree project will be brought before the men.

Besides asking the merchants to put the idea across by placing Christmas trees in the holes near the curbings, which were made originally to insert flags during celebrations, Morton will ask them to properly equip each tree with colored electric light bulbs and the usual Christmas tree paraphernalia in order that the project will be more beautiful than ever.

The idea, which was brought out by a subscriber of The Lima News, will be carried out by several surrounding towns.

EGYPTIAN FUSS FAR REACHING

Slaying of Gen. Stack Really World Problem

FRANCE KEEPS HANDS OFF

Same Boot With British Over Situation

BY ANDRE TARDIEU

PARIS — (Special) — What has happened this week in Egypt is really more important than is generally realized yet. The murder of Major Gen. Sir Lee Stack and its consequences have been discussed thus far only from a European political viewpoint, but it is really a tremendous world problem that is now opening up with nineteenth century colonial empires at grips with Moscow and Ankara.

The political aspect is perfectly clear, although the French press unfortunately is carrying on an absurd anti-British campaign. The League of Nations has nothing to do with the question and will only burn its fingers if it interferes. The so-called Landowning-Deedless agreement in 1904 gave Great Britain a free hand in Egypt, and France in Morocco. Therefore France's duty is to do nothing to embarrass London in dealing with the question, as it seems necessary and also to France's interest since France is having similar difficulties in North Africa, notably Tunisia, where it has the so-called "Young Tunis" movement.

As in Egypt, the movement began by demands for certain local reforms, but it soon developed into a campaign for complete separation and extremists talk of open rebellion. And in Tunis, as in Egypt, these extremists are in close touch with Ankara and Moscow. The plan of Ankara independence; Moscow supplies the notion of revolution, and both ideas are combined in a general campaign against Europeans.

Thus the French are in the same boat as the British and even if the treaty of 1904 did not exist, the common interests of the two nations should require a common policy.

The Moslems of North Africa forget the anarchy which their countries suffered before the Europeans came, bringing to them order and prosperity. It is this very prosperity created by Europeans that the natives now give as the reason for throwing out the European. Moscow has a special budget for North African propaganda which figures heavily in the present state of mind of local populations.

And just while all this agitation is coming to a head, an unfortunate coincidence makes the

WORKING MODELS

Gladys Frazin, noted actress, is thinking of building herself perhaps the United receiver in the world. She's holding some of the miniature parts, all of which work effectively. They were on exhibition at the New York and Chicago radio shows.

French government decide to turn over to the soviets Wrangel's fleet interned at Bizerta. A soviet commission is coming now to Bizerta to take over the fleet and it will use the opportunity to spread useful propaganda along the lines of the famous Zinoviev letter. Admiral Exelmans, commanding the French fleet in Tunisian waters, has even demanded to be relieved of his post rather than receive this mission which he regards as dangerous.

FIRST ACT
In short, the British now are playing the last act of the play, while the French are playing the first act, but it is the same play with the same authors and the same actors.

Thus, European colonization, which has done great things in the past and might do even greater things in the future, comes back to the work in the road. Consider what is happening in China, India, Persia and Iraq—the same menace shows its head. Let Islamism win in Africa and believe in Asia and propaganda will be turned on Europe itself with the Third International immensely strengthened by its colonial successes.

It is the first great battle between the old bourgeois European regime and the new dictatorship of the proletariat. How small are our petty national and international problems in comparison!

LEAGUE ACTIVITIES CONTINUE

GENEVA — So regularly are governments required to send delegates to Geneva for League of Nations meetings—assembly, council, or special commissions that many of them have purchased houses or have leased apartments. These are for the double purpose of housing delegates and of serving offices. Hardly a week passes but what some meeting of importance is scheduled for Geneva.

GIRLS, LOOKIT!

CHICAGO — Rolled stockings put kinks in girls' feet and hurt the circulation of the blood, but dancing is a beneficial pastime, Dr. Carl A. Herzog declared here in an address before the Illinois Pediatric Association.

"Rolled stockings tie kinks in the nerves," he said. "Dancing and walking are the best exercises for aiding the feet," he declared. "When the feet move gracefully in the dance the whole body is benefited. When one walks every motor nerve is in action."

LABOR TROUBLES IN OFFING

Action of Rail Employees Held Significant

DEMANDS MAY SPREAD

Idleness Greatly Lessened During Past Year

BY HARDEN COLFAX

WASHINGTON — (Special). — The first sign of approaching labor troubles has made its appearance in the railroad field. No larger than a small cloud on the industrial horizon, of itself it is regarded as almost inconsequential, but as an indication of labor's possible attitude during the expected period of prosperity, it is causing some concern among officials here.

The development is a request on the part of the railroad brotherhoods for a conference to discuss wage readjustments. This request has been made to officials of the Southern Pacific railroad, and it is expected, will be extended to other western roads. It follows by two months or so a readjustment by the New York Central of wages among engineers, firemen, trainmen, conductors and telegraphers amounting to an estimated 5 per cent increase.

ENTERING WEDGE

No similar request is said to be contemplated at the present time in the case of the eastern or southern railroads, but it is regarded as quite likely that the success of the workers in the forthcoming conference with western roads would be followed by similar conferences with roads in other sections. Thus the point of the entering wedge is higher wages, first among railroad brotherhoods and later among organized railroad workers generally, is seen by some officials here.

Such a movement, it is believed, would not fail to spread from the railroads to other industries. A general period of widespread industrial activity would make the time opportune for such demand and as leading business men are almost a unit in forecasting an era of great prosperity, the opinion prevails that the present slight surplus of labor in some lines soon will be replaced by a labor shortage in many lines. The time then would be ripe to demand higher wages and there is little doubt that the demand will be forthcoming.

First demands naturally have been centered on the railroads, which at the moment appear to be the advance agents of the new prosperity. The railroads generally are prospering, but not so much as they hope to prosper when business hits the expected stride. Equipment orders totaling more than $1,000,000,000, decided on recently by the chief carriers in New York, speak eloquently the railroads' view as to the immediate future.

The extent of the sharp depression thru which the country has passed and the rapidity of its recovery have not been generally realized. Five months ago, according to estimates made by labor department officials, from 1,600,000 to 2,000,000 workers were unable to obtain employment. Today idleness is but little greater than normal. Considerably less than 1,000,000 workers, including the so-called floaters, are believed to be unemployed.

A labor shortage by spring is expected here by officials in daily touch with the situation. At the present time, however, according to one of these officials, labor is content to keep what it has and is not thinking of immediate wage advances. As soon as the supply is less than the demand, however, and labor is at a premium, demands for higher wages are confidently expected. For almost a year the country has enjoyed a respite from major labor troubles. With the exception of sporadic strikes in the hard coal fields, the conciliation board of the department of labor at the present time is engaged in attempting to settle only 56 cases of labor difficulties. These cases involve from a handful of men to 500 each. The average, perhaps, would be 200 workers. The total number of workers, exclusive of anthracite miners, involved in labor disputes throughout the entire country, according to this reckoning, is less than 18,000 at the present time.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE MONDAY

School Children to Assist in 17th Annual Drive

$300,000 IS QUOTA

Club Women, Postoffice Will Also Sell Stamps

The 17th annual Christmas seal drive in Allen-co will be launched Monday with the distribution by teachers of seals to students in every school in the county.

Allen-co Child Welfare association is sponsoring the seal sale in rural communities with the city sale under jurisdiction of the Christmas Seal committee.

Eighty per cent of the proceeds realized from the sale of the Little Seal remains in Lima, while 20 per cent goes to the state to aid in the care of tubercular afflicted.

Official endorsement of the Christmas seal sale in Allen-co was made Saturday morning by Governor Vic Donahey in a telegram received from Columbus by Mrs. Kathryn Reilly, chairman of the local committee. The governor's telegram follows:

"Monday marks the opening of the 17th annual Christmas seal sale in the state and nation. The happiest time of the year for children is Christmas. You are doing a big work for their health and happiness. I wish you God-Send and a Merry Christmas."

Sale of the penny seal has increased steadily since 1910 when less than $30,000 worth were sold. Last year the amount was $225,000 and the quota this year has been set for $300,000 for Allen-co. Since this time a decreased death rate from tuberculosis has also been noticeable from 150 for 100,000 population in 1910 to 85 in 1925.

"Keep the Well Children Well" is the slogan adopted this year by the committees, for the money realized will be used in buying sanitary articles for the schools such as paper towels, medicine cabinets, first aid equipment and in supplying milk to undernourished children and providing fresh air camps.

The public is asked by the Child Welfare Association and the City Health Center to buy their stamps from the pupils in their community for the rural school will receive only the money realized from the sale under the direction of the association. The same rule will hold in the city. Seals will also be obtainable at the local postoffice, at Memorial Hall and will be sold by the club women of Lima. An appeal is sent to the public to help in accomplishing the task which has brought about remarkable results and which is helping our children to keep strong and healthy.

LAKE STEAMERS MEET WITH HEAVY STORMS

SANDUSKY — The crew of the Canadian coal steamer Lehigh reaching this harbor from Montreal today, told of a week's battle with storms on Lake Ontario and Lake Erie and of restricted rations of one meal a day because of the delay experienced in reaching the port of destination.

The Lehigh also reported that the Key West, also out of Montreal, lay two days anchored off Long Point, enroute here, without any food for the crew.

Lakewood. One thousand dollars will be paid for the arrest and conviction for any one of the five men, according to John T. Sibley, chief of the safety department of the bank.

Safety Director Edwin D. Barry on Saturday issued an order to Police Chief Jacob Grael to clean the streets of gunmen and potential gunmen. This was released to the police force, together with an order by the chief that called for strict supervision of downtown streets during the Christmas shopping season.

Barry's order to the police was prompted by the crime record for the month just ending. This shows 57 holdups, seven non-fatal shootings and nine murders.

Action Leads to More Nations League Talk

BY A. G. GARDNER

LONDON. — (Special). — Public concern in regard to the Egyptian situation has been greatly intensified by the arrests following the reported discovery of a plot to murder Lord Allenby and the present ministers of Egypt.

Open repudiation of the Zivari ministry's attitude of surrender to the nationalists increases the gravity of the internal situation and tends to modify the criticism of the action taken by the British government.

That criticism does not concern itself with the indemnity and the withdrawal of Egyptian troops from the Sudan, but is directed mainly at the article in the ultimatum relating to the Nile. This is considered to be calculated to create popular alarm on the most vital subject of Egyptian politics, and tends to make the Egyptian populace sympathize with the extremists.

No British government can contemplate a policy other than a fair and equitable distribution of the waters of the Nile between Egypt and the Sudan. The river is equally the life-blood of both countries and there is no reason to fear a lack of abundant water for both but the Egyptians naturally are suspicious of schemes of development in the Sudan which would diminish their supply.

Ramsay MacDonald's labor government has left the situation in a far way for an equitable settlement. It had taken the view that the resources of the Nile and allocation of the water supply was an entirely technical and judicial question and that it must be left to the decision of an impartial expert committee which was interested in neither Egypt nor the Sudan.

ON CHAMBERLAIN
The writer understands this view was endorsed by Austen Chamberlain when he succeeded to the foreign office. No doubt he will adhere to that policy but insistent on it if the question in the ultimatum in a form easily construed into a menace, inevitably creates distrust in the British government's intentions in this vital matter and Chamberlain is being called on to disprove the public opinion on the subject.

The drastic policy adopted by the government has been much resented especially in France, where the press is talking more and more about the League of Nations than ever before.
It is natural to observe the "League" and enthusiasm for the "League" which is manifested by different nations when some other nation needs to be called to order. Nations are very much like individuals. They are acutely conscious of each other's iniquities and are strangely insensible of their own.

Will the question of the ultimatum be raised in the League. The writer understands that if it is raised, the position of the foreign office will be that it is a domestic question and it will not agree to submit that point to the court for a decision. That course certainly would represent the temper of the present government. Apart from Prime Minister Baldwin and Lord Robert Cecil, its leading members, Birkenhead, Churchill, Amery Johnson Hicks and Worthington Evans are either coldly indifferent or are frankly hostile to the whole conception of the league.

LIBERAL TENDENCIES
The fact constitutes the most regrettable consequence of the late election. It has substituted a distinctly imperialistic ministry for one of strong liberal tendencies at the most crucial moment when a more reasonable government is in power in France and when therefore the possibility of a common pursuit of an enlightened external policy seemed particularly favorable.

It will be interesting to await the course of events in regard to Lord Robert Cecil, whose devotion to the league in his main interest in public life and who is not likely long to survive any tendency on the part of the government to put that interest in the background. (Copyright, 1924)

MOTORCYCLE CRAZE
BERLIN — While the automobile in Germany falls very far short of the per capita of population number registered in the United States, the motorcycle is popular and increasing numerically rapidly. The total doubled between 1921 and 1923. There are now more than 50,000 such machines of 2 1/2 horse power, and 100,000 equipped with lower powered engines.

Her Neighbor's Advice Helped Mrs. Frick

MRS. ADA FRICK
PERRYBURG, OHIO

"YOU can be just as healthy, strong and happy as I am," said one woman to her neighbor after listening to the description of her ailments.—"If you will take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My condition was very similar to yours, I suffered from those awful bearing down pains, weakness, backache, nervousness and headaches until I could hardly drag around. Today I am strong, well and happy because I followed the advice of a friend who had been greatly benefited by this old-fashioned root and herb medicine."

Nearly fifty years ago Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass. prepared from medicinal roots and herbs Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Its fame has spread from shore to shore. You will now find in every community or neighborhood some woman who has been restored to health by its use, or has some friend who has. Therefore ask your neighbor.

Thousands of unsolicited testimonials such as the following are on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and prove the merit of this medicine. Therefore no woman should continue to suffer from such ailments.

Mrs. Frick Tells of Her Experience

PERRYBURG, OHIO.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my sides all the time. I can't remember just how long I suffered but it was for some time. One day I was talking with a neighbor and I told her how I was feeling and she said she had been just like I was with pains and nervous troubles and she took the Vegetable Compound and it helped her. So then I went and got some and I certainly recommend it for it is good. Whenever I see a woman who is sick I try to get her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Ada Frick, R. LIMA'S BUSY STORE

THE LIMA SUNDAY NEWS

Published every Sunday morning in The Lima News Building, 121 E. High-st., Lima, O. Entered as second class matter June 8, 1924, at the postoffice, Lima, Ohio, under Act of March 3, 1879. EARL R. LEACH, Managing Editor. By Mail, one year, $2.50. Single Copy, 5c

Business Conditions

A wave of confidence, with more inclination towards future buying, featured the past week in business.

Wholesale distribution exceeded in volume the week previous and the week a year ago. Expanding operations are reported in steel plants, and industrials generally. Car loadings continue at the peak, and retail trade has jumped forward in all the larger cities.

Despite an expected turn downward, stocks continue to soar and more than two hundred listed shares reached new highs for the year on the New York stock exchange. Oils swung into action at the week end, and there was heavy buying in Standard and the seasoned independent shares. Advances have occurred in gasoline on the seaboard, and crude oil in storage has declined for the first time in a year.

Locally, there is little or no change in the industrial situation. Our shops have not participated in the expansion noted in some centers, but continue on small production. Here and there a few men are being added to the payroll.

On the other hand, there are so many smaller concerns giving employment, that the shop rolls are not as dominant as in the past. One distributing refined oil company alone employs over one hundred men, a number equal to factory proportions a few years ago. In one garage and sales organization there are thirty-three employees.

Building trades have played a very big part in buying power as well. Builders continue to sell almost on completion. There is an urge for new homes, which temporarily, brings vacancies in older sections of the city, but ultimately, means new construction on old land sites.

Vacant lot buying continues in fair volume, with money at the banks and Building & Loans in scant supply. Failure to collect taxes in December and January will throw a heavy burden on commercial banks, for the usual distribution may not occur this year until late in the spring.

The city remains a going concern, with a depleted treasury; and the schools are looking for finances. The new city appraisalment has played no part so far in deterring home buying. What taxes will be, seems secondary to comfort, in the minds of the masses.

Retail trade started with a rush Friday, and yesterday was the best buying day of the year at the big department stores.

Crime Mysteries

Apparently the acme of crime has not been attained, altho it was apparent that the distorted brains of Leopold and Loeb, youthful Chicago murderers, in planning what was to be known as the "perfect crime," came about as near to a realization of their vision as possible.

The big trouble with those who seek to stage a crime that will successfully baffles investigators, science, and the keenest detective and alienist minds, always leaves something on which a solution may be built, resulting eventually in the apprehension of the guilty persons.

Waiving aside the possibility of Mrs. C. V. Sheatsley, wife of a Columbus minister, having crawled into a furnace atop a bed of live coals, for the purpose of committing suicide, and assuming for the sake of the argument that she was the victim of foul play, and her body placed on the fire later to destroy evidence of the crime, dark as the mystery now appears, it is only within the bounds of reason to believe that—eventually, at least—if a crime was committed, the facts will come out.

This leads up to the point intended to be discussed. Instead of going about their methods of investigation calmly and carefully, there is too much tendency on the part of officials to race over important points, trampling down and court-ting the danger of obliterating what may be the most important evidence, to such an extent that when a blank wall is encountered and they start back over the same track, it is found that they have thwarted their own purpose.

If Mrs. Sheatsley was murdered and her body was placed in the furnace by the slayer, it must be admitted that extreme care and caution was employed in removing deadly clues. However, the real facts will come out some time, despite official blunders.

Election Precincts

Discussion of the existence of such a large number of election precincts in Ohio brings to the forefront some interesting facts. One of the provisions of the state law requires that unofficial returns must be reported to the secretary of state at Columbus by midnight of election day.

It is pointed out that with more than 8,000 voting precincts in the state, casting increasingly greater number of votes from year to year, in some instances it may be impossible to comply with the law. The question has repeatedly been asked: Why is it necessary for the returns to be reported so early? The query is not timely, in view of the fact that, doubtless, some of the persons propounding the question, are the most eager to know, as quickly as possible, who has been elected.

The point is raised that it is not possible for the judges and clerks to count the votes in the larger precincts within the time specified. There is also a mistaken idea, due perhaps to a lack of information. The very fact that the number of election precincts is constantly growing, should disclose to most anyone that it is for the purpose of preventing the very thing apparently overlooked—permitting a precinct to grow to such proportions that the election officials cannot handle the vote.

The tendency is not to reduce the number of voting precincts. It is exactly the opposite. After all, there is little or nothing saved by attempting to reduce the number. The voters want the results as quickly as possible.

Idle Curiosity

Idle curiosity is a disease, says Dr. Bundesen, health commissioner of Chicago. He claims that the chronic look-on is a victim of "spectatoritis."

Such a person, says Bundesen, "may now and then make a suggestion or an observation, but usually he is quiet. After the show or game, he goes home, sits down and calls it a day. The chronic eye-witness is usually sedentary in his habits. He thinks more of his stomach than of his health. He would much rather be a bystander and let the other fellow do it."

In a way, it's too bad that our national game is baseball. Children get beneficial exercise from it. But for most grownups, baseball is a theatrical performance.

The game entertains them but it does not benefit their health.

Golf does. And it's fine for America's health. That golf is swiftly growing in popularity. So-called "spectatoritis" in its most pronounced form is evident in the crowds that gather to watch diggers excavating for sewer and pipes. The watchers stand in a half-trance, as if expecting to see buried treasure dug up. Maybe they do.

A man once bet $5,000 that he could assemble an excited crowd of 5,000 people in five minutes at one of the most congested street intersections in New York City. He won. All he had to do was stop on the sidewalk and look into the sky with a startled expression. Nearby pedestrians also stopped. They wanted to see what interested him. Presto! a mob—and police reserves had to be called.

Life must be dull, the way so many of us are afraid we'll miss something. . . . Stand aside! a horse has just fallen in the street.

THE MAKING OF A KILLER

If you swear around a young child, the child will learn to swear. All children are imitative. All children are highly imaginative. The way their imagination is led or misled in the first five years of life determines, to large extent, their character and tendencies when they grow up.

We have in mind the tin soldier, the drum, the toy cannon, the pop-gun and other playthings that suggest war.

These toys help perpetuate war as an institution.

They fire the childish imagination and teach that war—wholesale murder—is a glorious sport. Don't give your children any toys this Christmas that suggest war. To help promote the cause of world peace give boys, in particular, constructive playthings—toy trains, building blocks.

It may be argued that it is necessary to develop the fighting instinct for national defense against aggression. But war toys develop aggressiveness, not defense. The child instinctively attacks with his military playthings, rather than using them to defend.

It is improbable that our generation will see another big war. Gigantic conflicts come roughly every 50 years. It takes that long for the people to replenish the race, pay off war debts and get enough saved up to finance another carnage.

All of us hope there never will be another World War nor a major conflict between two great nations—particularly a conflict that would involve the United States.

If such a war comes, it will probably be fought by a manhood now in the cradle or unborn.

If you want the next generation to be workers for peace, without aggressive militarism, don't give children military playthings.

The nation will always be able to defend itself against aggression. As children acquire intelligence and judgment, they will be patriotic in any just cause. But surely, of America is to show the rest of the world an ideal example, the place to begin in taking the leadership in the peace movement.

Help world peace by not giving children miniature implements of war.

THE PRINCE OF WALES

The Prince of Wales was born to rule, and he is young and strong. And he is fond of comradeship, his laughter and his song. And he would like to walk with men beneath a starry sky. But, oh, he may not choose his friends, the same as you and I.

The Prince of Wales is fond of golf, the game is good to play. But, alas, he must follow him about to keep the throne away. On many a care-free golfing man he casts a longing eye. But, oh, he may not play a match the same as you and I.

The Prince of Wales was born to rule, some day he'll be a king. But 'round about him everywhere he hears the hammers ring. And he may look for tasks to do, for far-flung goals to try. But, oh, he may not go to work the same as you and I.

The Prince of Wales has wealth and power, yet richer far are we. The wives who wait for us at home are those we want to see. And he must wait to wed a maid the royal fates deny. But, oh, he may not choose his wife the same as you and I.

The Prince of Wales may wear a crown and add to England's fame. But never shall such liberty as ours be his to claim. And many a night and many a day he'll look at us to sigh. Because he may not live his life the same as you and I. (Copyright, 1921)

BE WILD AND WEL

If a tame rabbit is held in an upright or erect posture he will die after about twelve hours, from bleeding into his own spleen. They are the popular weak vessels in the abdomen and lower chest. But if a wild rabbit is held in the same position he will live two or three days.

Now what is it the wild ones have on us tame ones? Just physical training. The wild ones make better use of their muscles.

I don't know, of course, how this would be with human subjects in the place of the rabbits. But I suspect it would be much the same result—the dignified party would be half way to Woodlawn by the time the atavistic individual began to grow a little weary. Which is one reason why I have urged folk in danger of dignity to roll somersaults every night and every morning, to counteract, in a measure, the deadly effect of our upright posture.

In the erect attitude we are constantly struggling against gravity, and at that we might break even if we had the muscle endowment necessary, but few of us are so equipped. We are too fond of sitting.

Primitive man, when he returned to his cave or tree after the day's chase, threw himself down and rested. Civilized man sits in his car on the way home from the office, sits down to dinner, then sits down to read or listen to the radio.

This sitting is hard work, too. It is, really. In the sitting posture only a few of the supporting muscles of the body are relaxed. No easy chair as yet invented will permit complete relaxation of the muscles.

Now look out. Don't infer that sitting is a good form of exercise or that the tired business man ought to go right to bed as soon as he has had his dinner. I merely deplore the invention of the chair because it is such a modern man, woman and child, a fifty-fifty compromise with rest. Had we not acquired the habit of sitting we might still have the vigor of our remote caveman ancestor.

There are two ways of sitting, and chairs of seats designed accordingly. One way is to sit on

SCHOOL PAPERS ISSUED

Day Enjoyed by Seniors; Mass Meetings Held

A meeting Tuesday of the senior club was very interesting. The members of the club gave several poems and essays about Armistice day. Mrs. Anna Smith, club supervisor, closed the meeting with a short talk on parliamentary rules. Because of the fact that the club meets only every two weeks, it was not possible to have the Armistice day program at an earlier date.

A short meeting was held Wednesday evening before the regular discussion meeting period by the boys of the senior Hi Y of South, who are going to Mansfield, for the Older Boys convention at that city. At this meeting Mr. R. T. Veal told the boys of the work of the convention, and of its spirit. The boys from South who went to the convention were, Ned Jennings, Walter House, Dallas, Mark Lutman, Bryon Osman, and Eldrid Van Pelt. They went by automobile, and left the Y M. C. A. at 8 o'clock sharp, Friday morning. They will be back late Sunday night.

The Rainbow staff surprised the school Wednesday by issuing a special edition of the school paper. A special colored gold paper was used for this edition. Special Thanksgiving stories and poems were featured of the paper. A large space was given over to working up enthusiasm for the Thanksgiving game.

Miss Olive Hawkins, editor-in-chief of the Rainbow, left Thursday for Madison, Wisconsin, where she will attend the annual meeting of the Central Inter-School Press association. Some 7000 journalists will attend the meeting which is held for the betterment of school papers. Miss Hawkins will return late Sunday evening.

The S. M. S. held a "Hobo Day" Wednesday afternoon. All of the seniors dressed up in their most ridiculous and their funniest costumes, went out on the football field and had their pictures taken by the Annual. However they left their costumes on all afternoon and had a good laugh was enjoyed by the underclassmen at the expense of the "dignified" seniors.

Mass meetings were held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, in between of the game Thursday, speeches by Coach William Galbreath, Earl Wren, captain of the football team, and H. C. Robb, but a great deal of pep in the school. Wednesday "Judge" Lick, former coach at South, gave a talk to the students Douglas hole, of Central High, gave a short talk to the students to better the sportsmanship between the two schools.

REPORTED HEAD OF ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE TO QUIT

COLUMBUS — Reports today from reliable sources, but lacking direct verification, were to the effect that Thomas M. Hare is to retire as superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League about the first of January and that he will be succeeded by the Rev. Edward J. Moore, senior, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, Westerville. Rev. Moore was connected with the Ohio organization several years ago and later was state superintendent in Pennsylvania and Missouri. He is about 60 years of age and married. He is a member of the West Ohio Methodist Episcopal Conference and has held pastorates in Ohio. He also has been admitted to the bar but never has practiced law.

HAIR FOR VIOLIN BOWS IS BECOMING SCARCE

LONDON — Makers of violin bows are becoming anxious over the growing scarcity of white horses, from the tails of which are taken hairs for the manufacture of bowstrings. According to an expert there is a decided shortage of white horse tail hair from Siberia and East Russia, whence the best supplies come, and thus far no suitable substitute has been found.

When the supply of gut for instruments began to dwindle, silk and metal were successfully introduced as substitutes.

A Gleamy Mass of Hair

35c "Danderine" does wonders for Any Girl's Hair

Girls! Try this! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of gleamy hair, sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance. While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a bottle of delightful, refreshing "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair becomes.

Put the heat where you need it

YOUR heating plant very likely develops all the heat you need—if delivered without pipe-losses to your living rooms.

Every uncovered pipe is a radiator in the wrong place. It means wasted coal, wasted money, and cold living rooms on winter days, endangering the health of your family.

It is easy to keep every room comfortable, with less coal, by covering exposed hot-air pipes with Carey Asbestair. Cover hot water and steam pipes with Carey Aircell Covering.

If your heating-plant does not keep your house warm, come in and let us show you how to make it 100 per cent efficient at small expense for Carey pipe coverings.

ADDED COMFORT IN AUTOS

Greater Power Feature of New French Cars

LONG WERE CRAMPED

Prices Range Higher With Franc Tumbling

PARIS—(By Associated Press)—France is at grips with the automobile fever. The annual exhibition with its 1,000 cars, 30 of which are American, has stirred an interest that didn't need much stirring and the car-fanciers are worrying over the traffic problems of the future.

Better automobiles for the average driver are presented this season, although no revolutionary ideas are offered. French mechanisms are fewer, but the general common sense keynote of the show has not stopped the development of recent improvements, such as four-wheel brakes, the "servo" mechanism for them, and the long sought substitute for differential and rear-wheel drive.

EXTRA LEG ROOM
More comfort in reasonably priced stock bodies and better power are, perhaps, the salient points to the buyer. French cars long have been cramped for any man taller than 5 feet 6 inches, but the foreign trade and the trade of foreign buyers here have increased the demand for the French themselves for a little leg room, and this year they are getting it.

The typical, up-to-date French automobile, corresponding to the American $1,200 to $2,000 classes, now has four-wheel brakes, a fairly high-compression motor, about two-liter piston displacement, balloon tires, and a silence of operation that many of the best makers heretofore thought of no great importance.

OPERATIONS EXPENSIVE.
Prices, as usual, are higher. They went up with a bang last spring when the franc tumbled and stayed up, and many factories gave them another little boost to celebrate the show. However, on a gold basis, the best cars seem cheaper than in the United States, but their operation is far more expensive because of the higher cost of gasoline, oil, repairs, and the Frenchman's failure to look after his car himself.

France now has about 400,000 automobiles, or 1 to every 100 persons, but the one big mass-production manufacturer of France, making a light moderate-priced car, advertises that he is turning out 300 machines a day and will produce 500 daily next year.

SUE FASHION KING
PARIS—A manikin who became critically ill with a severe case of pneumonia after posing in bathing suits on a cold day, has sued the fashion show for damages. She charges that she was called upon to wear the different bathing costumes in a room that was poorly heated.

CHICKEN LEADER HURT
PARIS—Henri Dugas, yell leader for a public school here, broke a wrist in turning a somersault before his cheering section. He was removed from the field while the crowd cheered for him as lustily as for any injured athlete.

STAGE A STRIKE
CONSTANTINOPLE—Workers in a mop factory here went on strike, poured kerosene over scores of mops, lighted them, and used them as torches to fire the factory buildings. The destruction took place so rapidly that police were unable to interfere.

MOTHER JEALOUS
LONDON—A mother who whipped her daughter because she "kept late hours" was given a heavy jail sentence when it was brought out that the mother merely was jealous of her daughter's popularity. Mother and daughter also were in love with the same man, it was revealed.

Heart and Kidney Diseases Caused By Torpid Liver

Blood carries body poisons through the system to vital organs

To clear our systems of poison toxins that taint the blood and break down health, we must keep the liver regulated. Medical science now knows that the liver is our most important organ because it destroys the body poisons that cause diseases of the heart, kidneys, blood vessels, create high blood pressure and premature old age.

When the liver becomes torpid, these poisons, instead of being destroyed, are carried through the system by the blood. Then Nature gives quick warnings. You have sudden attacks of sick headaches, dizzy spells and nausea. If your stomach is acid from sour bile and your skin becomes sallow or blotchy, you may know poisons are in your blood.

The liver cannot be regulated by drugs, but there is a safe Nature substance which will act directly on the liver. The discovery is purified ox gall.

Get from your drug store a package of Doxol. Each tablet contains ten drops of purified ox gall. In 24 hours the poison toxins will be removed. Your liver will be regulated. Blood purification will begin. Sallow skin will clear. You will feel so much better you will know you have found the cause of your ill health. Doxol tablets are harmless, tasteless and cost less than two cents each.

These genuine ox gall tablets are prepared only under the name "Doxol." If any tablet is offered you under another name, refuse it. Accept only Doxol in the original, genuine package. adv

TIP TURNIN' POINT IN GARFIELD RIPROGLE'S LIFE

Many of us who are given "one month. Again he sought employment with nothing to commend him but a fine education, a knowledge of night clerkin', and a point in the career of Garfield Riprogle, the well-to-do nephew of Mrs. Tipton Hall.

Garfield Riprogle started out in life hemmed in by obstacles. First, the party in power, and never dis-cussed government ownership of railroads, and an' after tellin' him, T-day, along, ever sayin' 't' himself, Garfield Riprogle is a point of interest in his town, looked up to cloud, altho it is rainin' today, and amply account for the attitude which retail houses can assume toward their clientele.

"German currency had so long been on a fictitious paper basis that the average purchaser had lost all appreciation of the price justified in terms of staple money. This utter lack of appreciation of the real value of the new currency permitted the merchants to take advantage by exacting unjustified prices."

Similarly, the doubling of the number of trading and producing firms between 1918 and this year has added to the overhead of production. With no substantial increase in the volume of business it was pointed out that twice the number of firms meant that each concern did half as much business as formerly and that in the end the consumer must pay.

TAXATION BLAMED
Miller blamed taxation in part for increasing the manufacturing costs of German products.

"The German manufacturer," Miller said, "paying the lowest wages in any one of the leading industrial countries of Europe, is still unable to market goods on a competitive price basis. Heavy taxes, particularly the turnover tax of two percent, and over-organization are seen as outstanding reasons for this situation."

Germany Has Trouble With New Currency

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — The German public, accustomed to the bloated currency of the paper mark, has not yet readjusted itself to the sound values of the new currency. As a result, American Trade Commissioner Douglas Miller reports to the Department of Commerce, the average purchaser pays far beyond the fair value of most everything he buys in Germany today.

This deflation at home of the value of the gold currency which the Allies helped the German government create thru the Dawes plan and the recent loan had mystified European observers of the department here. They figured from an economic basis and could not account for the huge increase from the manufacturer to the retail value of commodities in Germany. They neglected the human equation in their calculations, Miller points out.

UNJUSTIFIED PRICES
"Vivid recollections of war-time difficulties in the procurement of staple commodities," Miller states, "still linger in the German mind and amply account for the attitude which retail houses can assume toward their clientele."

STATE ROAD IS COMPLETED

Westminster Strip of Seven Miles is Opened

ELIDA JOB INCOMPLETE

Extension of Route to County Line is Possible

Westminster-rd., approximately seven miles in length, built under direction of the state highway department during the past year, has been officially accepted.

Frank W. Daum, division engineer, and Charles Ash, resident engineer for Allen-co., went over the road Saturday and pronounced it up to specifications. The road has been open to traffic for some time.

Continuation of the road from Westminster southeast to the Adams-co. line during the coming year is practically assured, according to the two engineers.

Survey of the two mile section from the end of the present paving to the county line has been ordered by L. A. Boulay, state highway director.

Ash said this work has been started and will be carried on thru the winter whenever weather conditions are favorable.

If the state department has sufficient money in 1925 it may be possible for the county to obtain it on this section.

PROGRAM NEARS END
Paving of the road to the county line, it is believed, will eventually compel the state to continue the improvement down to the concrete paving in Auglaize-co and afford a direct route to the reservoir, Bellefontaine and Columbus.

But one major project attempted by the state in Allen-co. this year remains uncompleted. Ash said. Work is still in progress on the Elida bridge. Three-fourths of the concrete is poured on the structure, but the fill is only about half done.

The remainder of the concrete work will be poured in the next few weeks, Ash declared, but it may not be possible to pave the approaches until spring.

The fill must settle thoroughly before paving is attempted.

Traffic is being sent over the old bridge, which has been reinforced, and only vehicles going in one direction are allowed to cross at any one time.

When the new structure is completed the old bridge will be torn down. Construction of the new bridge was necessitated by the hazardous condition of the old structure.

PAYROLL STOLEN
JOLIOT—Two unmasked men escaped with $7,155 of the payroll of the Marion Center Coal Mining Co., at Joliot, near here, after holding and gagging Arthur Funn, the paymaster, who was alone in the office at the time of the robbery. A clerk who released Funn, found $1,488 in the box which had contained the payroll. The trace of the bandits had been found Saturday night. They escaped in an automobile.

MILK GOES UP
CLEVELAND — A slightly higher price will be paid to farmers for milk, but this will not be reflected in retail prices of dairy products, according to the sales committee of the Ohio Farmers' cooperative milk association, Saturday, following a meeting with representative distributors.

A price of $2.00 per hundredweight for class 2 or "surplus" milk and $1.87 as a "pool" price for all milk the industrial users have been arranged.

FACTORY BUILDING BURNS
LONDON, O.—A spectacular fire, which caused a loss of $100,000, destroyed a four-story factory building at Cherry and Eleventh-sts., S. E., Saturday night. The building was vacant at the time of the blaze, the Union Art Metal Company having moved from the structure several months ago.

CARS COLLIDE
SPRINGFIELD, O.—Two men were reported injured in a rear end collision between a passenger car and a freight car on the Indiana, Columbus and Eastern traction line near Harmon, east of here Saturday, according to reports reaching this city. Early reports said that none was seriously hurt.

YOUTH IS KILLED
NEWARK, N. J.—William Hazz, 17, was instantly killed and his father, William Hazz, Sr., farmer, was severely injured when their truck skidded off a telegraph pole here today. This makes the 96 death toll to automobile accidents in New Jersey this year.

MINISTER GUILTY

Jury Returns Verdict in Abduction Case

NOWATA, Okla. — A jury in district court here Saturday required about 15 minutes to return a verdict of guilty against Joseph E. Yeats, formerly a minister of Alluwee, Okla., charged with the abduction of 15 year old Georgia Fields, one time a chorister in Yeats' church. The 12 men, 10 farmers and two oil field employees, fixed his punishment at five years in the state penitentiary. Yeats, who displayed little emotion during the five days' trial, heard the verdict unflinchingly.

Shortly afterwards he declared he would "carry on the work of the Lord wherever I happen to be."

His attorneys announced they would appeal the case to the state criminal court of appeals. Judge Charles Baskin announced he would pass sentence on Yeats Dec. 6.

The abduction charge grew out of Yeats' elopement with the girl last September after a marriage ceremony which he admitted on the stand that he himself performed.

CHILDREN'S BODIES FOUND
PERTH AMBOY, N. J. — The bodies of James Antal, aged 4, and Joseph, aged 4, were found in a creek at Woodbridge today by officials who have been seeking the two children, since their mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Antal, was killed last Saturday night by a train on the Central railroad of New Jersey. The mother is thought to have drowned the children and then committed suicide.

BROOKHART WILL DEFEND CLAIM

Iowa Senator Prepares to Conduct Recount

DES MOINES, Ia.—(By Associated Press)—Senator Smith W. Brookhart plans to defend his claim to his seat in the United States senate on the same grounds upon which Daniel F. Steck, his Democratic opponent in the general election plans to base his contest of the election.

This was disclosed Saturday when the senator, thru court action, in nearly a score of Iowa counties, set out to preserve for the probable senate recount of the ballots, all records of the election, some of which might be destroyed under the law, on Dec. 4, when county auditors are permitted to dismantle voting machines and retain only the total recorded for each candidate.

Sensor Brookhart, in filing petitions for injunction against 19 county auditors, asked that special masters in chancery be appointed to open voting machines and preserve ballots which may not have been counted, as well as those which were recorded.

In numerous instances, he alleged in the petition filed here, judges of election disregarded their duties and failed to make true and accurate returns on the senatorial race.

Attorneys for the senator declare they have evidence that in numerous counties, straight Republican ballots were not counted. Likewise, Steck's attorney has announced his contest of the Brookhart election will be based upon votes which were not counted thru a misunderstanding on the part of some election judges.

Board of commerce nominating committee, selected to draw up a list of names for the new board of directors and officers of the organization, will meet Monday night for that purpose. H. L. Breckenridge is chairman.

BARRAGE OF DROP KICKS BREAKS DOWN NAVY DEFENSE

Meeting Of Minor League Officials Takes Place At Hartford Next Month; Will Fight

GARBISCH'S GAME HAS NEVER BEEN EQUALLED

BALTIMORE, Md. — (By Associated Press) — A barrage of drop-kicks, fired from the magic toe of Captain Edward W. Garbisch, broke down the Navy's fighting defense Saturday and gave the Army a spectacular victory over her ancient service foe.

Rising to super heights in the climax to his long and brilliant gridiron career Garbisch kicked four field goals that represented the entire margin of Army's 12 to 0 triumph in a thrilling, desperately fought struggle before President Coolidge and a vast throng of 78,000 in Baltimore stadium.

Before this colorful and notable outpouring, the greatest that has ever marked the annual service game, Garbisch covered himself with immortal gridiron glory with an exhibition of individual skill and dynamic leadership seldom if ever equalled in this classic of gridiron classics.

Garbisch, by kicking four field goals, not only performed a feat that has no parallel in Army-Navy history but through the course of the outstanding fight, both on attack and defense, in a triumph that broke a two year dead-lock in the service rivalry and gave the cadets the lead in the series that was inaugurated in 1890. As a result, Army now has 13 victories to her credit and the Navy 12, while two resulted in ties.

The cadets by the decisive nature of their victory, fulfilled the predictions that made them favorites, but they were forced to a terrific fight to take the measure of the midshipmen, who rallied from the depths of a previously disastrous campaign to put up a valiant defensive battle that thwarted every attempt of the Army to score a touchdown and might have produced another scoreless deadlock, such as was waged a year ago, only for the unsupportable performances of Garbisch.

ARMY'S SUPERIORITY
The Army displayed marked superiority in every category but one, defense, consistently outwitting and outkicking the sailors. And when Navy's backs were to the wall in the first and last periods, the cadets showed they had the defensive stuff to frustrate the Navy's most desperate attempts to cross their goal lines with an ever threatening aerial attack.

Outplayed but not outclassed, the midshipmen went down to defeat in a plucky, courageous battle against a team which displayed far greater experience, coolness and versatility. The her attack frequently was stopped in its tracks. Army constantly was threatening Navy's goal with an offensive in which Bill Wood and Bill Gilmore, two backfield stars also playing their last game for West Point, scintillated. Harry Wilson, All-American star, who had been picked to lead the Army's charge, was in almost total eclipse and after failing to make any headway in the first half, was displaced by "Tiny" Hewitt, whose line plunging was a feature of the cadet closing drive.

GARBISCH'S HIGHLIGHT
Garbisch, however, was the only one consistently outstanding.

Pennsylvania probably boasts the first all-left-handed backfield in the history of football.

It is made up of Pastor Field, who plays left half, Jim Laird, quarterback, Captain "Muggsy" McGraw, right half, and Ay Kruez, fullback.

When the critics first saw the quartet in action they suspected a new variety of gridiron strategy, but investigation disclosed all the athletes were naturally left-handed.

SPORT OF KINGS DRAW CROWDS TO TIJUANA

BY STUART N. LAKE

SAN DIEGO, Cal. — (Special) — They're off at Tijuana — and off to such a start as even the famous winter race course just across the Mexican border from this city seldom has boasted. There is a certain liberty about old Mexico — especially since the adoption of the Volstead Act — that annually draws thousands of patrons to Empress del Hipodromo, which is Spanish for Sunny Jim Coffroth's racing establishment. But Coffroth and his general manager, Jack Atkin, are not relying on extra equine ball alone to lure the Purses big enough to attract the best of the racing stables, and eight good races a day run under sunny, warm skies, are the factors upon which they are counting to make this "million dollar" renewal of the Tijuana Jockey Club's season a dazzling success.

Lovers of the sport of kings from all over the United States and Canada are here, and the first three days of the meet, which started on Thanksgiving day, saw the track crowded to the rails with turf enthusiasts and tourists.

The Thanksgiving day opener, of course, has been the high spot of the meeting to date. It drew a crowd of 25,000 persons, including hundreds of holidaying motion picture gentry from Hollywood, and provided a spectacle well worth seeing — off the track as well as on it.

THINK OF THIS NOW
With the mercury hovering around eighty, the sun shining from the perfect blue of a lower California winter sky and a cooling breeze sweeping in from the nearby Pacific, it was an ideal day for the movie people to strut their stuff. But they paid, and paid, and paid for the privilege. The Hollywood picture foundries will have to turn out miles of pictures to make up the losses they suffered.

Russett, widely known as the "moving picture horse," was the cause of their downfall. On his last appearance here, the Spreckels racer won last season's $50,000 Coffroth Handicap. This fact and his all-star movie people in droves when he pranced forth for the feature race of the day.

RAN LIKE A STAR
The movie people ran like a star for a while, but then he pulled up lame and finished fifty yards in the rack, Sunnyland, owned by the Bronx stable, and third choice in the betting, winning by half a length over Postilion.

Then along came an event which the wily Mr. Coffroth had named the Hollywood Handicap, and all the movie people went out to get even. They picked every-

Promising youngsters are often plucked too early in their careers by the big league scouts.

Take the case of infielder Lester Bell for example. He joined the St. Louis Cardinals last spring, coming from Houston in the Texas League.

Bell was a bust from the start. After a three week's trial he was sent to Milwaukee in the American Association. His work proved that he needed just one more year.

He is back with the Cardinals after leading the American Association with an average of .368.

BRITISH GOLFERS TO MEET YANKEE STARS

BY RAY MCCARTHY

NEW YORK — (Special) — George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, Great Britain's foremost golf team, announced on their arrival Friday for their third tour of the United States that they were out to better their record of 1921 when they won fifty matches in sixty played.

The peerless George and the hard-hitting Abe will play their first match against Bobby Jones and Perry Adair at Asheville, N. C., on Wednesday, December 3. Then they will jump down to Tampa, Fla., where they will encounter Johnny Farrell and Bobby Cruickshank. Both of these youngsters, but Farrell in particular, have been playing remarkable golf lately.

Duncan and Mitchell will compete next in a one day tournament at Miami and on Sunday, Dec. 14, they will face Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen, America's leading home-bred professionals, in a match of 36 holes at St. Augustine.

On leaving Florida the Britons will head for California, playing thru Texas. They will return to the Atlantic seaboard some time in February to engage in some of the Florida tournaments and will sail for home late in March.

HAVE ENVIABLE RECORD
Duncan and Mitchell have established an enviable record as a team. Many critics, in fact, rate this pair as the most formidable combination in the game. Each is a really great golfer, possessing a distinctive style of game. Duncan is without doubt the fastest playing golfer in the world.

Mitchell has few equals in long driving and is matched in this respect only by two fellow countrymen, Arthur Havers and Cyril Taylor. Both are very colorful in their play.

On their first visit in 1921 the Britons played 60 matches, winning 50, tying two and losing eight. On their second tour Duncan and Mitchell appeared in 40 matches, winning 28, losing 10 and being tied in two matches. It will be interesting to note how they will fare on the sandy courses in the southern states and the close layouts in the golden west.

The coming of Duncan and Mitchell brings to the front again a question that is off and on in golf circles — "Who are, or were, the greatest golf team?" VARDEN-RAY GREAT TEAM

The writer has seen all combinations now in existence. has toured with several and is of the opinion Harry Varden and Ted

Ray had no superiors when in their prime. Their showing in this country in 1920 when their combined ages totaled nearly 100 years — 93, to be exact, was nothing short of remarkable. Playing in the heat of the summer against the best combinations of American professionals and amateurs, this pair won something like 45 games and lost only about a dozen matches.

Duncan and Mitchell are a hard pair to beat on any occasion. Watch them this trip. Mitchell has recovered from an attack of rheumatism which affected his putting when he was here previously and should appear to better advantage.

THE ITINERARY
The itinerary of the Duncan and Mitchell tour to date is as follows:

Dec. 3, Asheville, N. C.; Dec. 7, Tampa; Dec. 12 and 13, Miami; Dec. 14, St. Augustine; Dec. 18, Dallas; Dec. 24, El Paso; Dec. 27, Wilshire; Dec. 28, Ranco; Dec. 30, Brentwood; Dec. 31, Midwick; Jan. 2, Hollywood; Jan. 3, Ojai; Jan. 4, La Cumbre; Jan. 5, Pasadena; Jan. 6, Los Angeles; Jan. 7, Hacienda; Jan. 9, Modesto; Jan. 11, Lake Merced; Jan. 14 to 17, California state open; Jan. 18, San Francisco; Jan. 28, California; Jan. 31, Virginia; Feb. 1, Palos Verdes.

COACH BOLES WOULD CURB PASS IN FOOTBALL RULES

WOOSTER, Ohio — (Special) — "The excessive use of the forward pass in football should be curbed," declared Coach L. C. Boles of the Wooster College football team at the close of the 1924 season. Boles further added that football as it must now be played is rapidly deteriorating into a basketball game outdoors. Football is a game where the ball is to be advanced by rushing and kicking. The over-head game as it is now being played has taken the emphasis from the rushing of the ball and placed it on the ability to throw it.

Boles would recommend either of two changes. He would have the number of passes limited to ten per game. This would eliminate the possible chance of a team throwing the ball wildly in the closing minutes of a game and oftentimes by sheer luck gaining ground which the opponents have made by playing the rushing game. It would also serve to speed up the game for an incomplete pass, when time is taken out as the rule provides, does more to slow up a football game than any other play.

The other change which Boles advocates is to decrease the yardage to be gained in four downs from ten yards to eight yards. Boles believes that this would make it enough easier to rush the ball that less passes would be attempted.

Boles would not have the forward pass eliminated for he believes that it has opened up the game for the betterment of all. It has opened up the defense and eliminated much that is dangerous in mass play.

The change advocated by Boles would force the Wooster mentor to strengthen his running attack. The forward pass has been a strong part of Wooster attack this year. Wooster completed 44.7 per cent of the passes attempted while the opponents completed 31.3 per cent. Wooster intercepted 29 passes while Wooster's opponents only gathered in eleven passes.

NOTRE DAME DEFEATS CARNEGIE TECH 40-19

PITTSBURGH — The powerful Notre Dame football team trampled the Tartans of Carnegie Tech., on the Forbes Field gridiron Saturday, winning in a walk-away, 40 to 19. A perfect aerial assault and ability to gain at will thru the line gave Notre Dame the victory, but Carnegie fought every inch of the way, and early in the game seemed to upset the opinion of experts that the visitors would win.

Coach Knute Rockne sent in his entire string to open the game. But Carnegie was too strong for this outfit, blocking kicks and running the ends time and again. After Krysstoff blocked a kick, recovered the ball, and raced thirty-five yards for Carnegie's first score, Rockne decided it was time to send in his regulars. And when the stars got going, the home team found itself swamped at every turn.

D. Miller, Livergood, and Crowley, bore the brunt of the Notre Dame attack. Taking the kick in the second period, the stellar backs advanced to midfield from which point Stuhldreier tossed a forward pass to Miller who raced 40 yards for a touchdown. Crowley kicked the goal. Then came two touchdowns, one for each team, in quick succession. After advancing to within striking distance on forward passes, Carnegie scored, giving Notre Dame the lead. A few minutes later Beede, the fleet Carnegie fullback, ducked thru the opposition for a fake formation, tying the score. The beginning of the third period found Notre Dame going at full speed. After Livergood scored a touchdown on a series of forwards, Crowley and Miller went into action, striking thru the line for long gains. Finally Stuhldreier shot a long forward to Miller who after juggling the ball, got a firm hold on it and crossed the line. But Notre Dame was off-side and the ball was brought back. Duplicating the previous plays, the visitors scored, Crowley taking a forward a few yards from the goal posts.

Then came another Notre Dame drive which placed the ball in position for Stuhldreier to score. The final minutes of play found the Notre Dame second team back on the field. Carnegie found the going a bit easier, and after recovering a fumble, Beede executed a puzzling triple pass. Before the Notre Dame linemen knew what had happened, the Carnegie fullback had wiggled thru for his second touchdown. This ended the scoring.

FOLLOW THESE RULES FOR WINTER DRIVING

WHOLE AUTO TO BE WATCHED

Alcohol and Covers Needed for Radiators

BATTERY NEEDS ATTENTION

Good Brakes and Chains Should Be Provided

ANTI-FREEZE MIXTURES

Proper proportions of antifreeze and water to make a good antifreeze mixture depend on the extremity of the weather. For this reason it is up to the individual driver to determine how much antifreeze to put into his cooling system.

The following table shows the proportions which will help decide on the best proportions.

Down to Deg. Fahr.	Part Alcohol	Part Water
50	1	9
40	1	9
30	1	9
20	1	9

The great winter dread of motorists is a frozen cooling system.

Important as this is, there are other features about winter driving that are almost as necessary to keep the car in good shape.

Greater care of moving parts, tires, the oil system and the battery must be taken during cold weather. Winter puts an additional strain on the auto, which must be compensated by easier and safer driving.

As essential as the water cooling system is in winter driving, only a couple of simple operations takes care of it and prevents it causing trouble. These include use of an anti-freeze mixture and keeping the radiator and hood covered when the car is in use.

ALCOHOL BEST

The best anti-freeze liquid is denatured alcohol. Used in proper proportion with the water in the system, according to the coldness expected, there should be no worry of the system's freezing.

Outside of this, all that is necessary is to use the radiator and hood cover while the car is parked.

Besides, the cooling system however, these features should be watched.

Oil—Lighter lubricating oil is usually used in cold weather, because a heavier oil is liable to stiffen and make starting difficult. It also produces a greater drain on the battery.

BATTERY—Keep the battery well charged and filled. Winter requires an extra drain on the

BRAKE TESTER

Four of Standard engineers have invented this machine which is used to test the brakes of automobiles. It is held down by a heavy weight and when the brake is applied the weight moves against the springs, causing a pointer to move on the dial. This shows the distance required to stop the car from a given speed.

Latterly, due to greater difficulty in finding and more use of lights, the chips of ice cut the average water from melting snow gets into the cracks and the fabric deteriorates fast. To prevent this means keeping cuts and holes filled and the tires well inflated.

Tire chains are essential in icy weather, to prevent skidding.

"Free" Service Is Opposed By Dodge Agency

There is a certain magnetism in the word "free" and a natural human inclination in the direction of anything that appears to be free, but in spite of this it is not difficult to convince the average automobile buyer that paid service is usually preferable to so-called "free service," says D. B. Jones, local Dodge Brothers dealer.

Doubtless we are helped materially," he says, by the fact that Dodge Brothers have publicly announced repeatedly that they do not believe in so-called "free" service. It is not simply a local policy of our own, but a principle laid down by headquarters and adhered to, he believes, by every dealer in the United States.

Consequently the man who seems inclined to talk about "free" service usually begins by saying that there must be some good reason for not having "free" service, or Dodge Brothers would not take such a definite stand against it.

The reason is this—Dodge Brothers determined to base the price of their cars wholly on actual value with a fair profit to themselves and dealers. To enable them to "give away" accessories and "free" service, it would be necessary to make the margin of profit on the car large enough to absorb these extra costs. That could be done only by raising the best price of the car, and this they refused to do, Jones says.

World Flier In Chrysler Auto To Visit Lima

Lieutenant Henry Ogden, one of America's six Magellans of the air, will be in the city of Lima sometime during February, according to the management of the Shawnee Motor Sales Co., local Maxwell Chrysler motor car dealer.

Lieut. Ogden is one of the daring aviators who recently carried the stars and stripes around the world. He will be accompanied by his companions, Lieut. Nelson Lee Arnold and Jack Harding, who stepped out of his world cruiser at McCook field, Dayton, and at last reached the end of the long flight both around the globe and on the triumphal tour of America during which millions of Americans paid tribute to Lieut. Ogden and his fellow aviators.

Ogden, whose home is in Mississippi, will drive thru Washington via Detroit in his Chrysler Six making Lima one of his stopping places. He will be accompanied by Frank A. Merrill, son secretary of the Maxwell Chrysler Motor Corp., who will take the world flier to Detroit to meet Walter P. Chrysler and to inspect the Chrysler works. Lieut. Ogden also will report back to his old station at Selfridge field, Detroit.

Nash Salesman Uses Blaze To Sell His Cars

There was a popular song several years ago entitled "You Can't Keep a Good Man Down" and it would seem that J. T. Penrose is the man referred to in that song. One might several weeks ago fire broke out in the building of the Nash Penrose Motor Sales Co., at Newark, Ohio, destroying the entire structure together with a number of new cars among them a 134 and a 165. That would have about floored the average man, but not Penrose.

While the flames were raging Penrose's bookkeeper entered the building and secured the list of Nash owners and prospects. That night, before the fire had been extinguished, Penrose had not only completed arrangements for temporary quarters but he had telegraphed a letter to owners and prospects telling them of the fire and inviting them to call at the new place of business. The response to this bit of aggressive strategy was in keeping with the spirit of the letter.

Incidentally for several weeks after the fire the Nash Penrose Motor Sales Co. conducted a

ETHYL GAS NOT DANGEROUS

Motorists Need Not Fear Fuel, Report Shows

NEW YORK. — (Special). — A study of several years has shown that the manufacture of ethyl gas, which has been called "poison gas," is not as dangerous as it is made out to be.

This is the conclusion of an investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and officials of the automobile industry. The study was made by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which is the lead agency in the matter.

There is a hazard in the manufacture of ethyl gas, but this is one which is not a danger to the public. The study shows that the manufacture of ethyl gas is not as dangerous as it is made out to be.

He points to findings of the Bureau of Investigation, which is the lead agency in the matter. The study shows that the manufacture of ethyl gas is not as dangerous as it is made out to be.

In these tests, the Bureau of Investigation exposed more than 50 pigs, guinea pigs, rabbits and monkeys for from three to six hours to the fumes from gasoline containing a proper portion of ethyl gas. The tests lasted eight months. Yet no bad effects could be found in the animals.

Ethyl gas is diluted with gasoline at the proportion of one part per thousand of the fuel.

INTERNAL PARASITES IN CATTLE CAUSE BIG LOSS

WASHINGTON. — (Special). — With the cattle tick almost wiped out, and milk and meat production increasing, southern cattle raisers face another menace.

Internal parasites are said to be doing relatively more damage here than in the colder regions, because of the climate, says Dr. W. R. Hanson of the bureau of animal industry here.

The elimination of the tick and the resultant increase in animals in the south, he believes, are two reasons for expecting an even larger rate of damage from the internal parasites.

To make the government and state tick work effective now that it has shown favorable results, it will be necessary to pay more attention to the elimination of the internal parasites.

Such are stomach worms, lung worms and many kinds of intestinal worms.

MILLIONS SPENT BY STATE ON ITS ROADS

COLUMBUS. — The state highway department spent a total of $21,362,024.49 for the construction, repair and upkeep of approximately 5,400 miles of highways during the past year, State Auditor Joseph T. Tracy shows in an advance statement on his annual report made public today.

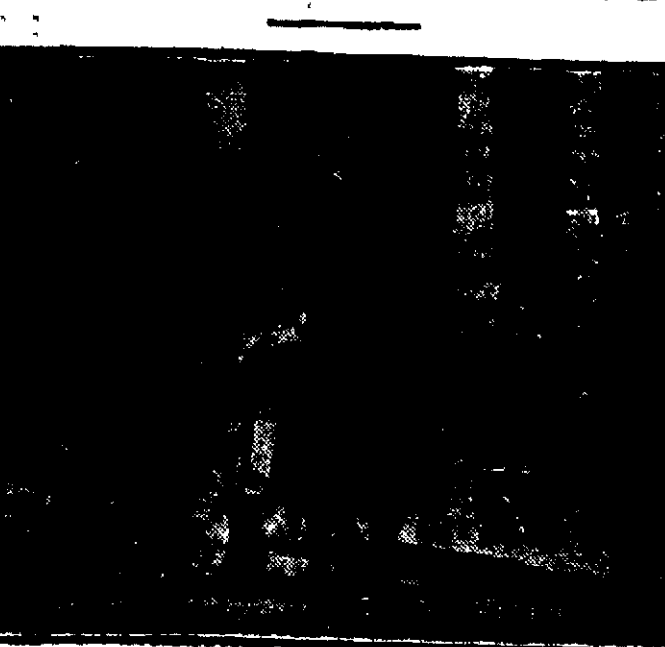

County and local projects received the largest proportion of the vast outlay, $8,572,877.68. Maintenance and repair work accounted for $5,081,443.91, while federal aid projects received $3,406,544.76.

On intercounty work a total of $3,245,221.39 was expended and $221,917.65 spent on main market roads accounted for the balance.

The report says the state was saved $20,796.63, by department auditors catching mistakes made in the thousands of vouchers drawn against highway funds.

SILENT MOTORCYCLES. Great Britain conducted tests near London of motorcycles with all sorts of silencers. The cause is an effort to silence motorcycle engines.

TOLEDO HAS CHAUFFEUR POLICE

PETER KROMENACKER, A "CHAUFFEUR-COP," ON DUTY

TOLEDO. — (Special). — "Chauffeur-cops" are guarding the lives of school children here.

Fourteen taxi drivers of the Toledo Transfer Company guide traffic at busy corners near schools before and after classes are dismissed at appointed hours each day.

The city is too poor to provide traffic officers at each school, and the lives of many children were placed in jeopardy until the transfer company offered the services of its drivers.

The chauffeur-police are on duty on school days early in the morning, at noon and in mid-afternoon.

A complete halt. When blocked by traffic and while taking gasoline and oil, the car was driven backward and forward a few feet to keep it constantly in motion.

The last few miles of the test were made at an average speed of two miles an hour in high gear while the driver was propped in his seat, semi-conscious and a trained nurse at his side. At all times during the 150 hours the car and driver were under the observation of newspaper representatives, police or automobile men.

CLOSED CARS INCREASE. Production of closed autos has shown a greater increase every month this year than last. Percentage of closed cars for the entire industry is expected to reach 40 per cent by the end of the year.

The test was made by the DeLuxe Automobile distributors in St. Louis. A cowboy "daredevil," W. G. Selley, was handcuffed to the steering wheel of an Oldsmobile and the hood of the car officially sealed. For five consecutive days and nights Selley drove the car at speeds of from one to 69 miles an hour, making a total of 2,193 miles during the run, or an average of 26.6 miles per hour.

At no time did the car come to a complete halt. When blocked by traffic and while taking gasoline and oil, the car was driven backward and forward a few feet to keep it constantly in motion.

MOTOR CARS GO MANY MILES

Fuel Consumption Shows Need for Auto

WASHINGTON. — (Special). — In two days motor vehicles in this country made more mileage than all passenger trains in the entire year.

This remarkable fact is gleaned from a survey of fuel consumption figures for only one month last summer.

Last July, according to Bureau of Public Roads report, the domestic demand for gasoline was 794,030,653 gallons, at least 85 per cent of which was used for motor vehicles. With more than 15,000,000 of these on the roads, the average daily fuel consumption is figured at 1.4 gallons a car.

Assuming 14 miles a gallon as average mileage, the total daily mileage made by U. S. motorists amounted to 300,000,000.

Improved roads, it is added, may have saved motorists millions of dollars in fuel consumption alone. Research at the Iowa State College shows that where a gallon of gasoline is consumed on a poor road, only seven-tenths of the fuel is needed over improved roads just as long.

AUTO PAGE SHORTS. Busses may replace trolley cars entirely in Gloucester, Mass. City officials have been asked for a 10-year franchise for bus operation exclusively.

MOST ARE FOUR. Eighty-five per cent of the automobiles shown at the French auto show in Paris are four-cylinder cars. Sizes come next in importance.

FABRIC BODIES SHOWN. Four-wheel brakes and fabric bodies were on exhibition at the French auto show. The fabric body especially is being produced for the small, light car, the kind made for two, three or four passengers.

SUNDAY WORST TRAFFIC DAY

Sunday has been found to be the most dangerous day for motoring, according to a survey of nearly 1,000 localities made by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

Thursday and Monday follow, respectively in the number of auto accidents. The most dangerous period during the day is between 4 and 5 in the afternoon.

Auto Considered Economic Asset To The Country

"While motor cars have been manufactured and sold for over 20 years," states James G. Hearst, president of the Rollin Motors Co., Cleveland, "it is only recently that it has been accorded substantial and authoritative recognition as an economic asset to the country."

No matter how much motoring enthusiasts had talked of the benefits of motoring—no matter how often it was pointed out how automobiles aided in the accumulation of wealth, until recently there was lacking a statement to this effect from someone commanding position, the respect and attention of the country.

And now within the year we have on two different occasions official recognition of the utilization of the automobile.

The latest official recognition was in the course of the new budget introduced in Great Britain, in which it was proposed to eliminate all import duties on automobiles.

"This constitutes what, without doubt, must be considered the most sweeping official recognition ever accorded the automobile as an absolute necessity to the advancement of civilization. President Coolidge, in December, 1925, in making his first address, said, in an obvious discussion of the motor car, 'No expenditure of public money contributes so much to the national wealth as that for building good roads.'"

At a meeting of the executive board of the company Saturday the matter of price of gasoline was discussed and the following resolution was adopted:

Be it resolved, That on account of the advanced wholesale market of all Motor Fuels, we find it necessary to either raise the price of Charm Gas or reduce the quality; Therefore, rather than put out an inferior quality we find it necessary to advance the retail price at all stations and pumps, as it is our custom to always have "Super-Charm" Gas during the winter months and upon this policy we believe Charm users will prefer a superior product to a cheap price; therefore, Monday, Dec. 1st, the retail price of Charm will be advanced to 17c per gallon at all the Charm stations and pumps.

Driving the new good Maxwell yourself, it will not take you a half hour to discover how wonderfully Chrysler engineers have carried out their conception of superior four-cylinder performance.

This group of men, who by their unexampled achievement with the six-cylinder Chrysler, have won the tribute of an industry, have now developed in the good Maxwell a new degree of four-cylinder power, speed and flexibility, and vibrationless operation which even surpasses these already well-known Maxwell qualities.

FRENCH LOAN IS SUCCESSFUL

Offering Oversubscribed With-out Preliminary Campaign

DOMESTIC BONDS LOWER

Federal Reserve Boards Get Criticism From Financiers

BY BYRON SELLER

NEW YORK — (Special) —

Among the events of the week in the investment market, probably the most important was the success of the new French loan. It is betraying no secret to say that the over-subscription of this new offering was not only gratifying, but to some at least surprising. There has been so much talk about the difficulties of the French financial position and French internal bonds have been selling so low in Paris that American investors might well have felt some hesitation about subscribing to a new French loan. As a matter of fact, there was no hesitation at all and while the over-subscription was not as large as that in the case of the German loan, the preliminary campaign was not as vigorous. In reality no attempt was made to sell the French bonds. They sold themselves.

The way in which the French bonds were taken proved a stimulating factor for the entire foreign list. The new German bonds were especially helped and sold around their best price. Then they first were offered. As a result the average price of typical foreign bonds listed on the New York Stock exchange now stands at the high of the year, and investment bankers are looking for more foreign securities to sell. Undoubtedly a good deal of this financing is now under negotiation, and not a small part of it for account of German industries.

HIGH YIELDS
Notwithstanding all this new-found favor of foreign securities in the eyes of American investors, this class of bonds still sells to return extraordinary high yields. Taking, for instance, the three seven percent issues, the Austrian, the German and the French, they return the investor at present market prices from 7.40 to 7.45 percent. Czechoslovak bonds yield nearly 8 percent and the Hungarian dollar issue returns more than 8 1/2 percent. And all this in the east-most money market since before the war. It is quite plain, then, that even with this important sentiment toward foreign obligations, there is room for a great deal more.

Elsewhere in the bond market there have been two opposing forces at work. The high grade investment issues have been dull and heavy. There has been some selling especially of United States government bonds by the banks and by corporations and there has been a slight falling off in quotations. On the other hand, speculative bonds have responded to the same influences that have been so effective in the stock market. Discussion as to the program of the secretary of the treasury in caring for the government's requirements of Dec 15 has been active, some authorities predicting a long term bond issue. The point is made that long term financing could be done now on a very satisfactory basis and there is no doubt that under conditions in the money market six months hence. Whatever the secretary of the treasury does will be taken to indicate his opinion as to the future of rates and his opinion is held in high respect in banking circles. In fact, it is not likely that the decline in Liberty's will go very far. For one thing, at any time when United States government bonds are obtainable below par, the British government will be a purchaser, as under the terms of its debt agreement Liberty bonds are taken at par in payment of interest and principal. Then, too, the constant purchases by the treasury are steadily reducing the supply. Nor is it reasonable to expect that corporations will sell Liberty's at a sacrifice when they are the best of collateral for loans.

FUNDS STEADY
As to the money market itself, there has been practically no change in time funds or in commercial paper. The quotation for call money was advanced at the close of the week to the highest since early in the year, but little significance was attached thereto. More important was the rise in some of the foreign exchanges, notably that of the Dutch guilder. Holland currency is now quoted at a figure approaching the gold export point. This is a development of the highest interest as far as the long term outlook for our own money market is concerned.

LACE CURTAINS

The windows of most houses cannot afford to do without the much maligned lace curtain.

Lace curtains, which used to be the vogue only a few years ago, have been discouraged to some extent in recent years because of their starchiness and lack of comeliness in their steady, even plain voile or guineo or even the bare window with only the draperies to embellish it.

Now, the suggestion comes from various sources, let us return to lace curtains. The reason is given as the failure of other than lace to produce as good an effect with windows as the lace itself.

There are few windows that, in their design and their outlook, are beautiful enough to go unveiled. They need some sort of curtain to soften the harsh note they would otherwise sound in a room.

Lace curtains, even more than colorful draperies, form a contact between the harsh architectural lines of the house itself and the softness of the furnishing in the room. There is no sudden jump from outdoors to inside, when curtains intervene.

Curtains also temper the lighting of a room. At the same time they are filmy enough to permit outside light and atmosphere to enter, in a softened, subdued form.

The two factors which are commonly regarded as responsible for the ease in money, which has made 1924 so remarkable in financial history, are, first, the trade reaction and, second, the huge gold import surplus. It may be that the gold tide is about to turn, as it is confidently believed that the business situation has reversed itself. If so, the low points for money during this cycle have been seen and any chance must be in the direction of a higher rate. Granting that this is a correct forecast, the effect upon the bond market for a long time to come will be confined to the securities of the very highest grade.

In connection with the money situation, the policy of the federal reserve has come in for a good deal of criticism this week. As is well known, the federal reserve bank, provided by the necessity of covering expenses and dividends on their stock, have been large purchasers of acceptances as well as of government securities in the open market. This procedure has accentuated the effect of the money glut. It is argued that the proper course should be exactly the reverse of that now practiced. If the system is to realize the purposes of its founders it should take up the slack, that is, sell government securities when money is easy and buy them back when money is tight.

KORETZ'S FRAUD EXPOSED

Get-Rich-Quick Artist Explains His Method

SAVINGS FORCED ON HIM

People Demanded That He Take Their Money

By OLIVER SHERWOOD

CHICAGO — (Special) — Put on a pretentious front, pose as a financial wizard, promise fabulous profits. The problem then will be not how to become rich, but rather how to keep people from forcing their wealth on you.

That is the get-rich-quick philosophy of Leo Koretz, greatest of swindlers since Ponzi, who during the coming week will face a galaxy of charges of fraud growing out of his great Bayano river trust of Panama—the fairy-land concern organized to market the untold riches of Panama.

So well did Koretz's philosophy work in practice that Koretz had some of the well-known financiers of this metropolis, begging him to let them invest. And the financiers now admit that they did as much in order to sink about $2,000,000 of their holdings.

Just plain bluff, high grade stationery, extravagantly appointed offices, a well-turned story that leads to imaginary riches in quick order, and the trick is turned. Federal and state officials said Saturday that that plan, followed by Koretz, is the time-honored one piled by swindlers the country over.

Koretz went after the big game, and even outwitted his own family, to take the savings of his mother and brothers for his venture. He said that his only trouble was to keep people from forcing their savings into his hands, and that is the defense he expects to make when forces of the law begin to demand an accounting for his frauds.

PEOPLE BITE

Koretz's story that a year ago caused prominent officials of large concerns here to resign their positions to accept berths in his fictitious venture, was just as simple as that told the scores of small investors the country over by promoters of stock schemes. It is so simple that Koretz thinks that there was nothing wrong with it legally—if people wanted to bite why should he be held responsible?

Koretz told of imaginary holdings of huge lumber lands along the Bayano river in Panama, of the finding of oil and minerals on the property for which millions had been offered him by a leading oil interest. The story took well, funds began to pour in, offices were built up, more funds came so fast that they could hardly be handled—and Koretz soon had $2,000,000 and more. He induced high salaried officials in some of the leading industries of Chicago to leave their positions to enter the employ of the Bayano River Trust of Panama.

Then some suspicious soul conceived the idea of investigating the whole venture. Koretz told a party of the more prominent stockholders to take an investigating trip at his expense. When

That was a year ago. After months of luxurious living on the money of others at his Pinehurst lodge near Halifax, Nova Scotia, Koretz was located recently just as he was about to venture on another scheme to appropriate $1,000,000 from wealthy Canadians for a high class fishing club and outfitting colony.

Koretz still thinks Barium was right.

NEW SYSTEM OF FAT REDUCTION

Here is a new way for all fat people to reduce. A new way to rid yourself easily and quickly of the burdensome fat which makes you miserable. Why should you let yourself go, resigning yourself to a life of misery, when by using Marmola Prescription Tablets you can become slender again? Thousands of men and women each year regain healthy, slender figures this way. You, too, can take off your excess flesh in this same pleasant manner. No need for violent exercises or starvation diets. Just take one small Marmola Prescription Tablet after each meal and before going to bed in a very short time your fatty flesh will begin to disappear, and soon you will become the proud possessor of a slender, shapely figure. You will not be deceived as long as you are fat—for fat people are always being made fat of. But don't let that worry you anymore. One of the foremost physicians of his time discovered the Marmola Prescription for fat reduction and he also conceived the idea of putting it up in the convenient tablet form. You will not have to go to your druggist and get a box. Or if you prefer, send the price—one dollar—to the Marmola Company, General Motors Building, Detroit, Mich., and a box will be sent to you postpaid. Start taking the pleasant little tablets now—you will always be glad that you decided to try them. Many of your friends have used them successfully, and

OTTAWA — David E. Conn, of Leipsic, was re-elected Saturday as president of the Putnam-o Farm bureau at the annual meeting. It is his third term to serve in this position.

August Heckman, teacher of the New Cleveland school, was elected vice president by acclamation despite his protests that he was not a farmer.

J. F. Gerdeman, of Ottawa, was re-elected by acclamation as secretary and treasurer to fill his second term.

Mrs. Samuel Weaver, of Blanchard, and Mrs. Clyde Mack, of Liberty, and Miss Mollie Beard, of Greensburg, were elected women directors-at-large. Miss Beard is the new member on the board of directors.

Five hundred farmers, their wives and children attended the meeting. A program of moving pictures was given at Anwa theatre in the morning. The twelve dinner was served at noon.

L. B. Palmer, of Licking-co, president of the Ohio Farm bureau federation, and Mrs. Charles Lawrence, inactive lecturer, were speakers. Gold pins, the gift of the Putnam-o Farm bureau and the Putnam-o Farm bureau and the Putnam-o Farm bureau, were given to the members who had finished club work.

The Ottawa Busy Bee club presented its leader, Mrs. Pratt Agner, a set of silver, and remembered Mrs. Howard Stottis, clerk in the Farm bureau office, with another set of silver.

NEW YEAR'S RECEPTION AT CAPITAL WELCOMED

President and Mrs. Coolidge to Be "At Home" To Receive Season's Greetings

By JEAN JARVIS

WASHINGTON — (Special)—The New Year's reception at the White house, dropped from the official calendar last January because of the death of President Harding, is not going to be allowed to sink into innocuous disuse. This historic fête, dating back to the earliest administrations, is well to the fore in the White House program for 1924-1925, a copy of which I have just received.

On January 1, from 11 to 1:30 o'clock, the President and Mrs. Coolidge are going to be "at home" to all who wish to extend the season's greetings. This announcement is hailed with the greatest of satisfaction here, for the annual event has a character and flavor which only the season's habits of Washington, steeped in the atmosphere of the Capitol, can appreciate.

All the old-time functions are on the program, along with the resurrected January 1 "at home," and from gossip filtering from the favored few who frequent the White House more often than most people, I understand that there will be ever so many diverting additions, such as musicals and fairly intimate "little parties"—which, after all, are the ones everybody wants to be in on.

Even the cabinet dinner on December 18, a feast set down annually in honor of the "official family" of the government, will be lightened, rumor has it, by bits of choicest entertainment quite distinct from the "Robo dignity" which usually engulfs it.

Time was when this affair was confined to the men who sit around the cabinet table officially. But nowadays, the guest list is so large that those who are keen on the business of drawing conclusions and building useful inferences, social and political, study the names of the guests to attend the big dinner which starts off the White House season.

With these two functions settled upon, Washington views with its usual complaisance the supplementary list, which, beginning January 8 with the reception to the diplomatic corps, is scheduled to proceed on every successive Thursday as follows:

Diplomatic dinner, judiciary reception; dinner for the supreme court; congressional reception; dinner for the speaker of the house; and the always gay and jolly reception for the army and navy, which concludes the list.

All varieties of doings are on the tapis. The first big charity ball brought all the debutantes and collegians together, the Thanksgiving holiday arriving just at the auspicious moment to

One of the lovely affairs of the Thanksgiving holidays was an informal party given by the members of the Kappa Sigma Pi fraternity for the members and their guests, Tuesday evening. The fraternity is composed of older high school boys of Trinity M. E. church. A number of interesting stunts and contests occupied the evening and later a luncheon was served.

Covers were laid at small tables centered with red and white fall flowers, the fraternity colors and red candles tied with white tulle furnished the only illumination.

Guests included Misses Pauline Gains, Susan Swisher, Mildred Cook, Dorothy Smith, Mildred Sullivan, Olive Mayer, Mary Martha, Thea, Candice Kirk, Helen Wildoner, Ruthers Eversole, Eugenia Doan, Dorothy Preston, Beth Ackerman, Ronda Robb, Esther Woodruff, Dorothy Whitton, Jean Winemiller, Elizabeth Zimmer, Frances Christen, Irene Johns, Janice Radabaugh, Corinne Garas, Olive Van Pelt, Virginia Hadley, Mrs. H. S. Graham, Herbert Speer, Robert Kusely, Stephen Churchill, Robert Ashley, Thomas Jones and John Morley, while the guests of honor were Rex and Mrs. C. A. Rowand and Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Bradley.

The members of the Sophomore class of the Gomer High school enjoyed an old fashioned "taffy pull" at the home of Robert Sheldadine, Monday evening. The rooms were adorned with gold and blue, the colors of the class, and baskets of fall flowers in the prevailing colors were arranged about the rooms. Music and games occupied the evening hours.

Those present were Misses Vivian Pettit, Rhoda Shenk, Eldora Humphrey, Marcella Allgire, Lillian Huffer, Mildred Thomas, Anna Lloyd, Messrs William Williams, Lloyd Morgan, Timothy Shenk, Limer Haysman, Charles Smith, Luther Williams, Myron Jones, Virgil Moyer, Dean Alger, and Robert Scheldadine, and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Lappin. Other members of the club are: Misses Margaret Jones, Esther Brenne man, Edna Brenne man; Messrs R. G. The Ladies Aid society of the Immanuel Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Herman Wagner, 545 Michael-av.

The W. C. T. U. Social club will be entertained Friday with a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Elks' home Mrs. C. E. Riley, Mrs. Eugene Bessie, Mrs. Elmer Hay and Mrs. Walter Frantz will be hostesses.

Miss Gladys Brown was hostess to the members of the King's Daughters class of the Central Church of Christ with a dinner party at her home, Friday evening. Misses Blanche Winterman and Lenore Zerbe assisted the hostess. Places were for twenty-two members of the class. Mrs. Kent W. Hughes, leader, and Mrs. I. A. Zay, assistant. Following the dinner games were enjoyed and a contest Miss Mary Baxter, Miss Pauline Vossler and Mrs. Hughes were successful.

On December 23 the members of the class will enjoy a Christmas exchange party at the home of Miss Arminia Markley, 678 N. West-st, with Miss Helen Meyer as assistant hostess.

Mrs. J. H. Goedde and Mrs. C. A. Richardson held high score at the meeting of the Daffodil Euchre club at the home of Mrs. F. H. Ruff, 421 W. Franklin-st.

Mrs. H. T. Craig was consoled, in the serving of dainty refreshments the hostess was assisted by her daughter, Magdalen. Plans were made for a grab bag to be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Wildt, 235 W. O'Connor-av in a fortnight.

The Ladies' Board of the Tuherentia hospital will meet at the Public Library Monday at 2 o'clock.

The Ladies Aid society of the Central Church of Christ will have a covered dish luncheon and a day sewing at the home of Mrs. C. C. Shepard, 643 Franklin-st, Tuesday.

For Your OLD Vacuum Cleaner

That old vacuum cleaner is good for something. It's worth $12.50 to you, toward the newest of perfected cleaners. The old cleaner was a suction cleaner. At its best, it never picked up threads—never got all the grit from the carpet nap. Suction alone or brush alone can't do it. Now comes the two-cleaners-in-one.

Premier Duplex

"FIRST AMONG CLEANERS"

With its two ways of cleaning at once, the new Premier Duplex keeps your rugs always as speckless as the day they came from the cleaners. Every thread you drop in sewing—every mud clot kiddie feet drag in—finest dust—the motor-driven brush picks them off—shakes them out. The powerful suction draws 'em all up from the very bottom of the rug. Double action for complete cleaning. And longer life for cleaner rugs.

HOW ARE YOU EXPRESSING YOURSELF?

One Effective Outlet for Man's Spirit of Conflict Since His Fierce Grapple with Natural Forces Has Been Replaced by Industrialism

"Real Play Is the Nearest Offset to War Between Nations or Classes"—Escape of the Ferments—A Slogan for All Recreation

BY RICHARD WASHBURN CHILD
Late U. S. Ambassador to Italy

THERE is a lesson and a glare of light for all of us in the ruins of the old Greek theatre in Syracuse.

From the top of the tier of seats I could see, not far away, another structure—a Roman stadium.

The first represented the civilization in a rich Greek colony which had forgotten how to play and on holidays went to the theatre to be amused.

The second represented a more virile civilization which took Syracuse away from the Greeks and erected there a place where games were played, where the instinct for conflict not only received training but also was given an outlet in play.

I was there as a visiting American official surrounded by Italian officials who told me that Syracuse had revived the Greek plays.

I thought to myself, "It would be more useful if they had revived the Roman games."

CORKING A BOTTLE

The Romans knew, as all strong nations ought to know, that the human instinct for conflict is too fundamental and powerful in human beings for any work of suppression. No civilization has ever put a cork into that bottle which did not blow out. If war between nations is suppressed nothing is more probable than a breaking out of our hunger for conflict in the form of civil war. If clamped down in those places it will burst out in and disrupt the family. If suppressed altogether it will stew inside men and women, break down their virility, bring on degeneracy—tear out their nerve vitals.

The early Romans were wise colonizers; wisdom even more than conquest built the power of their Empire. Everywhere they went they gave as much liberty to their colonies as they could, asking in return loyalty to Rome. They were wise also in realizing that play-conflict is the safety valve which left out unwholesome unrest. And finally they were wise in distinguishing between entertainment and play.

FROM OUTSIDE

Our civilization is in grave danger of losing play and substituting entertainment—something done for us, in place of play—something we do ourselves. You and I are in that danger. Having observed my own countrymen and women in various corners and in various circumstances I am ready to admit that we stand very high among the nations which have learned to provide a safety valve in the form of violent play. But I see clearly that we are moving toward mere entertainment—toward the form of amusement which comes from outside us rather than from inside ourselves.

Make the distinction between entertainment and play and ask yourself whether you are preserving your safety valve of play. Without it your powerful instinct for conflict is likely to break out in waste, restlessness, unhappiness, useless violence of thought and action. Your slogan for all recreation ought to be, "Let me do it!"

Listening to canned music, whether it comes off the rubber disc or the air, is not play. Looking at motion pictures is not play. Even going to a ball game and bawling at the umpire or watching good boxing is not play. These may all be good entertainment. They put things into you but they are not real play because nothing comes out of you. It is play that makes something come out of you which is the safety valve for your instinct for conflict.

POISONS OF BODY

President Harding once said to me that the great use of professional baseball was the stimulus it gave to the games played in shirt sleeves on the vacant lots. That is the truth. The only good national sport is one which permeates a whole nation of people and offers a chance to everyone to take part either to work off the poisons of the body in exercise or, equally important, to work off the poisons of the mind by expressing something of one's own self. This is the safety valve requirement of all of us.

In these days we need more than ever to retain and develop our faculty to indulge in real play. Any man or woman who asks himself or herself whether he or she has the outlet of real play and has to answer that there is no such outlet, had better find one being entertained is not play.

Let us think at first of children. Are you feeding your children entertainment and amusement at the expense of play? If you are you are only adding to their intake. You certainly are doing nothing to give wholesome outlet to their instinct for conflict. Mere entertainment may create in children a nervous hunger for more and more intensity of amusement. It is only the forms of play which require thought, action, competition, of the children themselves, which contribute to growth and take off the volcanic nervous forces which will find abutment unless a good one is provided.

A MAN MACHINE

The instinct of conflict is peculiarly strong in youth. Even the mother cat or dog is wise enough to foster that instinct. Watch the animal parents. They are almost always careful to play with their young and they encourage self-expressive play in every way possible. They playfully box the ears of their offspring and teach them offering to return playful attack with playful counter-attack. Animals know by instinct that youth requires training in conflict, outlet for the instinct of conflict to maintain normal states of mind and body and to grow in fitness.

Human parents ought to be even more intelligent and imaginative in encouraging children in the games or plays which require self-expression. And yet if you look about you, you will see family after family where the one idea is merely to amuse the children. You know parents whose love for their children is great, who spend lavishly for their children's entertainment and think that by providing variety by elaborate ready-made toys, they have done their duty. Of course what they are doing, as a great neurologist said to me the other day, is to produce a generation of sophisticated, cynical, morbid, bored, nervous youngsters who know nothing about play, have learned nothing by practice of how to turn their instinct for conflict into useful channels, who have had no practice in endurance, competition or restraint and who carry about volcanic forces of physical and mental energy which have found no healthy outlet.

But play should not cease with the ending of childhood. It is especially necessary to adults in this age of specialized labors.

Not long ago I went into a great industrial plant and I saw a man standing in front of a machine making nearly thirty thousand motions of his elbow every work day. Every motion was like the last and a time study expert was hoping to increase the speed so that this man could make forty thousand motions every eight hour day. I asked the man what he did evenings. He said he often went to the movies and that sometimes he and his family listened to the radio. Now just think of what this man's daily self-expression is. It is almost nothing!

VICTIM OF CIVILIZATION

While he is making his thirty thousand motions every day—done by the intelligence of his arm rather than by his intelligence—he is engaged in what he calls thinking. He cannot talk. He thinks and the thinking results in no self-expression. It merely stores up ideas which grow sour and ferment inside that man. And when he goes out the factory gate he is tired of thinking and wants to be entertained. He knows nothing about real play. Therefore from one end of the week to the other he never expresses anything of his instinct of conflict. That instinct is stored and either burns up the soul and being of that man or else is getting ready for a terrible explosion. He may be the victim of our rather horrible industrial civilization, but in any case real play would help him.

On the other hand, the cashier cages, the accountants' desks and all the "wheel horse" places occupied by our millions of administrative employees give little more outlet for self-expression. There men and women also need real play. Not entertainment but play.

those who think a great deal and have no chance to let their thinking loose or turn it into any action.

What an interesting fact it is that nations which know how to play, particularly those which know how to play virile, athletic games, are the successful nations not only as to force but as to morality and restraint. Look at the Far East. Whatever you may think of the Japanese, they are the one self-governing nation in a circle of territory with a diameter of three thousand miles. They have never known a licking, never been governed by a foreigner, and never broken an international agreement. They have been taught for centuries the art of self-control and of self-sacrifice by a system of athletic play which has never been paralleled. They have learned in this play never to draw a sword uselessly, but when it is drawn to be ready to kill or die. These are plain facts about the Japanese. It is a play nation.

But China has been governed or propped up by foreigners for hundreds of years. The instinct for bandit violence is always breaking out. Four hundred million live in misery and disease, dirt and degeneracy to support a few thousand and crafty exploiters. You never see the Chinese playing virile games. Athletic play is almost unknown.

PLACE FOR BASEBALL

At her era for power Rome was the great empire of which perhaps the first distinguishing characteristic was her athletic games.

The British Isles, which have spread civilization to farther corners than any other nation ever known, have practiced good play for centuries.

America in her strong period, which we will not allow to come to an end, has stood preeminent in athletic play.

When I was in Italy as Ambassador I used to go traveling a great deal through large and small towns, and after work and on holidays the populations would gather around the fountains and talk for hours. Of course this talk usually runs into a exchange of complaints. I once had opportunity to say to the king, who loves his country as much as any monarch ever has that I wished there was a baseball field in every village in Italy. After Mussolini came into power we discussed several times the need for encouragement of athletic play, and Mussolini is determined to foster it in every way possible.

Go where you will or look into history and you will see that nations which have forgotten how to play are the weak and whining nations, quarrelsome, trouble-making and snarling.

And individuals are like that. Perhaps the biggest question for you and me in this age and in this confusing civilization is not how to get more leisure, but what to do with the leisure we can get. Let's go back to real play.

A WONDERFUL LOVER IS MAN OF MUSCULAR AND MENTAL TEMPERAMENT

A wonderful lover is the man of the muscular or the mental and muscular temperament. Whatever he does, he does with his whole soul, for the time, whether it is a fight, a business deal, a piece of salesmanship, or a love affair.

Consequently he doesn't want to be disturbed to kiss when he is talking about business, nor will he tolerate disturbance of business when kissing.

He loves change and novelty, and freedom.

And there is only one way to keep him at home every night, for he loves his home, and that is to allow him perfect freedom to go, and to remain in patience until he cares to return.

If he knows he is welcome to return at all times, yet perfectly free to go, he makes a splendid lover and husband.

In this temperament we have the balanced, good looking man who loves activity, everything that moves, from pictures to automobiles, and detests dry studies.

He makes our best salesman, for he can get along with all kinds of people, if he is allowed to use his own ideas, and to keep moving all of the time.

The nature of the muscular man is spasmodic. When he loves he loves intensely. When he has cooled down he does not want to be forced to love.

When a girl is wise, she will allow him unlimited freedom, for his heart is in the right place, and he will come back when his rapidly revolving muscles rebound with another love impulse.

EXCELLENT THEATRICAL PRODUCTIONS ARE BOOKED THIS WEEK

PLAY HOUSES TO CONTINUE SAME POLICY

"The Thief of Bagdad" and "Rain" To Be Offered at the Faurot

"Cuddle Up" Is Musical Play At the New Orpheum All This Week

This week will bring to Lima several excellent theatrical productions. The events of the past week show that the program just announced will continue a very pleasing policy and will present entertainment that will be appreciated by all theatregoers.

Douglas Fairbanks in "The Thief of Bagdad," a motion picture presented with a symphony orchestra and other special features will open the week at the Faurot with the evening performance today. On Thursday "Rain," the compelling drama that ran two years on Broadway, will be seen for three days.

At the New Orpheum "Cuddle Up" will be presented for the entire week. This is a pretty little show with good dancing, pleasing music and an attractive plot. A capable company will accompany the offering.

"RAIN"

Dramatic Hit of the Year at The Faurot Thursday

"Rain," the play that made New York City sit up and take notice, has been sent on the road and will be seen at the Faurot Opera House Thursday, Friday and Saturday with a matinee Saturday.

This is the play that not only stirred the enthusiasm of those who saw it while they were in the theatre but has kept them talking about it for days afterward. It is a play that has aroused widespread comment and awakened not only praise but also condemnation because of the events portrayed.

Briefly the story concerns a missionary to the island of Pago Pago. A woman. Both are Americans, he with an earnest desire to save souls and she a refugee from the hallmarks of Honolulu.

The missionary attempts to reform the woman and induces the governor of the island to send her to San Francisco where she will serve sentence for crime. She seems to reform and listens to his teachings and accepts his precepts.

On the eve of her sailing he is attracted by her physical appeal, an attraction with the austerity of his wife, and rejects her. Then, stricken by conscience, he is a suicide. The woman reverts to type and announces her sailing for Sidney with a marine.

Dramatic, thrilling and thought provoking, this play is hailed by the critics as one of the greatest of modern drama. Not all will agree with the ideas advanced out, it is predicted, all will come under the spell of its power.

The cast that will present "Rain" here is an exact reproduction of the New York organization and has brought some talented players together. Georgia Lee Hall is to be seen in the part of Miss Thompson, the woman, and will be supported by S. Miller Kent, John Waller, Shep Camp, Douglas R. Dumbrell, Allen Jenkins, Mrs. Stuart Robison, Marion Marcus Clarke and others.

"Rain" will play in Dayton for four days just before coming to Lima and an indefinite run in Chicago will follow later on.

This is a play, it is predicted, that will prove a pleasant surprise to the theatregoer who says "musical comedies are the only things I like."

"CUDDLE UP"

New Orpheum Presents Good Attraction

In bringing "Cuddle Up" to the New Orpheum for a week's engagement it is planned to present the full production as it appeared during its recent tour as a road attraction. It will be seen for the first time Sunday matinee and a change of program is scheduled for Thursday matinee.

New Orpheum patrons will remember Sahara, the musical comedy that played here several weeks ago. "Cuddle Up" is said to be the same calibre of show and to bring to Lima a number of novelties that are unusually pleasing.

"Cuddle Up" will be given in two acts and accompanied by a number of musical numbers. The play has a constant plot and during the action several pleasing dance selections by principals of the company and the members of the chorus will be introduced.

As this is a slightly longer show than usual it will be necessary to start the shows promptly at 2:30, 7:30 and 9:15 p. m. During the week the regular special features will be introduced. One of these, Blanket night, has already become very popular. It is held Wednesday evenings.

Manager Shaw has recently viewed a number of productions that will be given an early showing here and he predicts New Orpheum patrons will be greatly pleased with the offerings.

THIEF OF BAGDAD

New Douglas Fairbanks Film at Faurot

When the "Thief of Bagdad" appears at the Faurot Opera house this evening for the first of seven performances here, the theatregoer will have an opportunity to see a picture that is unusual and noteworthy for more reasons than one.

This motion picture, starring Douglas Fairbanks, was the first cinema drama to be shown in the Drury Lane theatre in London, one of the strongholds of the spoken drama. In deciding to make over the famous English theatre into a movie house it was decided to book in the best motion picture available and this was "The Thief of Bagdad."

Theatrical critics throughout the kingdom watched the experiment with a great deal of interest and their reactions, of course, were a matter of great interest on the part of the motion picture producers who were responsible for this famous picture.

It was a real relief when the criticisms showed that "The Thief of Bagdad" had made good and was being hailed as a fitting picture to uphold the traditions of this famous playhouse. Every theatrical writer had nothing but the highest praise for the American offering.

Perhaps one is incorrect in saying the Douglas Fairbanks production is an American film. True, it was made in the west and most of the players are American, but the theme is oriental and overflows with mystery, splendor, romance and the unusual adventures that make the Arabian Nights stories live again.

"Happiness must be earned." This is the theme of the play. It is not a moral story in that it tries to teach a great lesson. The truth expressed is demonstrated and as a result will be learned by all. Nothing so powerful or so worthwhile as happiness can be obtained in any other manner than through our own efforts.

Every art and trick of the motion picture director has been made available for this production and one of the features of the offering will be the many almost unbelievable events that will be pictured. It will be a picture that will long be remembered.

A special symphony orchestra, Arabian singers and an Arabian character will accompany the picture for its showing here. Turkish coffee will be served at the preludes and interludes will add a touch of the oriental to the presentation.

Considering the picture and the manner of presentation, this should be an offering well worth while.

AT THE QUILNA

Two New Pictures to Be Offered this Week

The two new pictures scheduled at the Quilna for the current week, "Wages of Virtue" and "Argentine Love," have both been directed by Allan Dwan, the producer of "Robin Hood" and other pictures noted for their excellence of dramatic and pictorial values.

"Wages of Virtue" which opens a four day engagement this afternoon, in the last picture in which Gloria Swanson appeared before her departure for Paris to make "Madame Sans Gene." It had its premiere at the Rivoli theatre in New York last week and met with the unqualified praise of press and public. Miss Swanson, in particular, is highly commended for her portrayal of Carmelita.

The story is adapted from one written by Captain Percival Christopher Wren. It has its background in the headquarters of a contingent of the Foreign Legion in Algiers and one sees an East Side New Yorker, an Italian strong man, an English crack shot, a Parisian Apache and an American college graduate among the men busy in the barracks.

The principals in Miss Swanson's supporting cast are Ben Lyon, the young actor who has forged so rapidly to the front recently; Norman Trevor, a prominent figure on the legitimate stage and Ivan Linow, the famous wrestler.

"Argentine Love" which finishes the week at the Quilna, is the newest romance by Vincente Blasco Ibanez, with Bebe Daniels and Ricardo Cortez featured in the leading roles. Miss Daniels is cast in the role of a young South American girl who floats all the time worn customs and traditions of her race. She has been to the United States, absorbed a new world polish and acquired, among other things, a fiancé—a young American engineer who accompanies her to the Argentine where his work brings him.

James Rennie, Mario Majeroni, Aurelio Cocola, Julia Hurley and Russ Whytall are other eminent players in the cast.

Quilna News and a comedy feature will accompany each program.

"Argentine Love" which finishes the week at the Quilna, is the newest romance by Vincente Blasco Ibanez, with Bebe Daniels and Ricardo Cortez featured in the leading roles. Miss Daniels is cast in the role of a young South American girl who floats all the time worn customs and traditions of her race. She has been to the United States, absorbed a new world polish and acquired, among other things, a fiancé—a young American engineer who accompanies her to the Argentine where his work brings him.

The principals in Miss Swanson's supporting cast are Ben Lyon, the young actor who has forged so rapidly to the front recently; Norman Trevor, a prominent figure on the legitimate stage and Ivan Linow, the famous wrestler.

Richard Barthelmess Stars in "Classmates" at Sigma—Lyric Has "Yolanda"

Quilna Showing Gloria Swanson—Majestic Shows
"Trouble Shooter"

By GERTUDE GILLHAM
Among the many excellent silver screen offerings booked for presentation in local movie houses this week none should prove more attractive than "Classmates," Richard Barthelmess' new feature, which is appearing at the Sigma for the first half of the week. The United States Military Academy makes its first appearance as the background of a film drama and the West Point atmosphere is said to be correct in every detail.

Another important feature of the week is the appearance of "Yolanda" at the Lyric. This is said to be Marion Davies' crowning achievement in motion pictures. It is a picturization of Charles Major's historical romance of the same name and has its setting in the fifteenth century in the period of Charles the Bold, Holbrook Blinn and Ralph Graves have the leading male roles.

At the Quilna starting today will be seen Gloria Swanson's latest Paramount picture, "Wages of Virtue." The story is a heart-rending love tale of the French Foreign Legion with Ben Lyon in the leading man's role and Norman Trevor, Ivan Linow, Joe Moore in principal parts.

The Majestic will flash "The Trouble Shooter," starring Tom Mix, for the first three days. This will be followed by "When Odds Are Even" with William Russell, which remains for two days.

Thursday will usher in a number of pretentious offerings for the remainder of the week. "Hot Water," Harold Lloyd's latest comedy, with the usual number of Lloyd laughs, will move in at the Lyric theatre. The Sigma has booked "Along Came Ruth," starring Viola Dana, for the weekend. A screen version of

Richard Barthelmess and Madge Evans in "Classmates"

Appearing until Thursday at the Sigma theatre.

Vincent Blasco Ibanez' new romance, "Argentine Love" will be the Quilna's attraction. Bebe Daniels and Ricardo Cortez have the leading roles.

"Man's Mate" with John Gilbert, will be the Majestic's attraction on Friday and Saturday.

"CLASSMATES"

Richard Barthelmess Is Sigma Attraction

Richard Barthelmess' new First National picture which was released for showing just one week ago, is the Sigma's photoplay attraction for the first four days of the week. The picture gives the popular star a sympathetic role of the kind in which the public likes to see him and he has a fine supporting cast in Reginal Sheffield, Madge Evans, Beach Cooke, James Bradbury, Jr., Major Henry B. Lewis, Adjutant at West Point; Charlotte Walker and Herbert Corthell.

This picturesque and colorful story of West Point life was written by William De Mille and Margaret Turnbull long before either thought of motion picture associations. Now de Mille is a famous director and Miss Turnbull a widely known scenario writer. Then, Marion Davies and Lyn Harding in "Yolanda," the Lyric's attraction for the first half of the week.

however, they were struggling

"Classmates" is based upon an actual incident at West Point. Charles Klein, one of the most successful dramatists or some twenty years ago, saw a clipping of a hazing incident at the Military Academy and took it to the theatrical manager, Henry B. Harris. Both of them saw drama in the incident, but neither could develop the right sort of plot. In time it was turned over to deMille and Miss Turnbull.

Upon its presentation on Broadway "Classmates" proved to be a huge success. The cast included Robert Edeson in the role now played by Barthelmess. Wallace Eddinger and Frank McIntyre. As a stage play, it ran some four years in New York and on tour. The West Point atmosphere in the film is declared to be correct in every detail, the Superintendent of the Military Academy having assigned his adjutant to assist the director and the star in getting all the Academy details absolutely correct. The West Point authorities have passed on the different phases of military life in the picture and given it their commendation.

The South American jungle scenes in "Classmates," filmed in the Florida Everglades, give a picturesque and unfamiliar background to some very dramatic and highly emotional scenes, ably acted by the star.

On Thursday comes Viola Dana's starring picture, "Along Came Ruth." Viola has the role of an interior decorator who goes broke in the city with only enough money to take her to a small town in Maine. The manner in which she awakens the town and "puts it on the map" makes an unusual and very entertaining plot.

"Along Came Ruth" is to be shown in the place of "Never Say Die" Douglas MacLean's new comedy which has been postponed until December 13.

"YOLANDA"

Marion Davies Is Lyric Offering

Marion Davies in her latest photoplay, "Yolanda," will be the attraction at the Lyric theatre for the first half of the week and will be followed on Thursday by Harold Lloyd's excellent comedy attraction, "Hot Water." Both are heralded as outstanding features in their respective types of cinema art.

"Yolanda" is a picturization of Charles Major's historical romance of that name. It is woven around the romance of Princess Mary of Burgundy, who, in the masquerade of the burglar girl, Yolanda, wins the love of Europe's most dashing prince. The story is set in the fifteenth century. In the period of Charles the Bold, Duke of Burgundy.

Holbrook Blinn appears as the evil King Louis XI; Lyn Harding has the role of Charles the Bold,

Scene from "THE WESTERN WALLOP"

At the Rialto.

Duke of Burgundy; Ralph Graves is the romantic lover. Others in the cast are Johnny Dooley, Leon Errol, Mary Kennedy and Paul McAllister.

"Yolanda" is said to be the most stupendous motion picture which Miss Davies has yet essayed. In magic, science, romance of story, swift dramatic action and historical accuracy, it is said to excel "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

"Hot Water" relates the story of the trials and tribulations of matrimonial life. This theme is said to offer all kinds of possibilities for mirth, because it is human, and Lloyd has taken advantage of every possibility for laughs. "Hot Water" is a wholesome comedy of the type for which Lloyd has become famed, and the picture is certain to be ranked high with the best of the fall productions.

Jobyna Ralston, Lloyd's beautiful leading lady in "Why Worry" and "Girl Shy," heads the supporting cast which also includes Josephine Crowell and Charles Stevenson.

J. Warren Kerrigan, who has the role of Captain Blood in Rafael Sabatini's famous novel of the same name, which will be the attraction at the Lyric theatre on Dec. 13, has lost his beautiful curly locks and joined the Shaved Men's Club. For several years Kerrigan's hair has been admired by the fair sex and it was with regret that he allowed Director David Smith to shave his pate for the production.

Kerrigan is a true artist and willing to go to great personal sacrifices for art's sake. In several sequences he even allows his beard to grow and his hair to become unkempt. In others he appears without a visible hair on his head, save his eyebrows, lashes and coatee. During the major portion of the production, however, his head is graced with a curly wig hanging over his shoulders.

2 NEW PLAYS
ON BROADWAY

Comedy and Musical Farce
Well Received in Their Premiere Showing

NEW YORK.—(By United Press)—The holiday produced one universally acclaimed play and a new musical comedy highly recommended by the critics and marked by the appearance of two famous Russians, and the disappearance of two equally famous French stars.

Sidney Howard's comedy, "They Knew What They Wanted," produced by the Theatre Guild, was hailed as one of those plays that can stay on Broadway as long as it likes. With Pauline Lord rising to heights in the leading feminine role, the production has been the hit of the week. It is a not too boisterous little story with tears and laughter and pathos and real human beings, all in a pleasing little California valley.

"My Girl," a smart musical farce, proved a song and dance show which critics agreed was above the average.

Firmin Gémier, French actor-manager who is visiting us by invitation of the government, closes his appearance with a week of "The Taming of the Shrew," in French, and is going to Montreal next Monday.

Mme. Simeon, a fellow countrywoman of Gémier, concluded her New York repertoire with "La Parisienne" by Henri Beunegue, also in French.

Serge Koussevitzky, famous Russian conductor, made his first New York appearance with the Boston Symphony orchestra and Michael Mordkin is back at the Winter Garden after an absence of more than a decade.

George Arliss is back from London and is rehearsing a Galesworthy play, "Old English."

New things for next week: "The Money Lender," "Badges," "Princess April," "The Harem," with Lenore Ulrick, which shocked 'em in the sticks, "The Student Prince," "Paola and Francesca" and the "Little Clay Cart."

TOM MIX

"Trouble Shooter" at the Majestic

Of his many deeds of daring, few equal in recklessness the latest performance of Tom Mix in his new Fox picture "The Trouble Shooter," which comes to the Majestic theatre today for a three day stay.

Riding into the mountains to make repairs on wires ripped down by a terrific storm, Mix playing the role of a repair man, rides his remarkable little horse, Tony, across a narrow, swaying trestle directly ahead of a speeding train. The scene is one of the most thrilling Mix ever made and it was only after considerable persuasion that he urged Tony to the task.

In the cast with Mix are such notable players as Kathleen Key, Polaire Rousse, Mike Donlin, former big league ball player, Charles McHugh, All Freeman, Frank Currier, Earl Fox, J. Gunnis Davis and Howard Truesdale. "When Odds Are Even" starring William Russell, will appear Wednesday and Thursday and will be replaced by "Man's Mate" with John Gilbert.

WESLEY HARRY

William D. Russell, head of the film company which hires Wesley Harry and his freckles, has arrived in New York to complete the arrangements for the release of the first film made by the young star for his new boss, "Battling Bunyan" in the title and more than 2,000 persons will be engaged in its making.

MADGE LEAVES INC

Madge Bellamy, who recently finished her four-year contract with Thomas H. Ince, is now playing the lead opposite Kenneth Harlan in "Hard Cash," the initial production of a series being filmed by the Associated Arts Co.

ROGERS HAS REAL LAUGH

Noted Humorist Evolves Way To Cut Down Income Tax Assessments

BY JANE COMSTON
NEW YORK. — (Special) — Will Rogers, famed maker of laughs, got another loud howl out of little old New York Saturday.

Will got the laugh on the income tax. For with the publication of the figures that have worn the brains of many good Americans came the word that Will cleared some $70,000 a year for writing jokes for the newspapers and $4,000 a week for at least thirty weeks per annum for hisoin. laughs from Flo Ziegfeld's audience—and pays less than $6,000 income tax.

Business men who read the bulletin quoting Will's income tax—bankers and investment men from Wall Street—held their sides and groaned while Will laughed at each as he met them. If he really had an income of $200,000 a year his tax return should have been $86,640. If it was $150,000, it should have been $58,140.

And that is where the laugh comes in.

Will Rogers is a company. He loses tremendous sums thru depreciation and he charges for undivided dividends.

"Will Rogers, Inc."—that is what he calls his act. Mrs. Rogers is the remainder of the corporation and pays an income tax that far exceeds $2,566 he offered to Under Salt for the privilege of amusing his relatives last year.

"There is no trick to bringing down an income tax if you go at it right," said Rogers to the writer Saturday night as he dodged group after group of followers, leaving a trail of laughter at the New Amsterdam. "I have simply taken a leaf out of the book of those financiers who profess to be so puzzled at my income tax return."

"My brain would be a scrambled mess if I should try to figure out what the multimillionaire's taxes would be if they didn't charge for incorporation, depreciation and undivided dividends. I used the same idea."

Poor Will—he has a tough time with depreciation. You know his jokes are not half as good the second time they are heard as they were the first, and they are almost nothing in a full year's time compared to their early value. He has to count some 25 per cent off the company's income on that account.

But worst of all is the trouble with undivided dividends. Rogers hardly gets a cent for all his efforts, so he said. Why, more than half of the money has to go back into making the act better and better. He gets no dividends from it at all—well, hardly none, that is. And the remainder of the corporation requires half of the profit but there is.

"Incidentally," said Rogers, "I bought a lot of land in California and I am paying a lot of interest on that and paying to keep it up. You know that takes a slice out of any man's income."

Will is a good comedian but he has no license to call himself a newspaper reporter. He is too good a business man.

TOY REPAIRING

Scouts Plan Christmas Joy for Poor Kiddies

Work in repairing old toys donated the Lima Boy Scouts to be given poor children on Christmas will start Monday evening, J. M. Butcher, local scout executive, reports.

The room formerly occupied by the Western Ohio Railway Co., on W. Market-st. has been obtained as a workshop, thru the efforts of the Lima Trust Co., according to Butcher, and will cost the Scouts nothing. Electricity will be furnished gratis by the Ohio Power, and fixtures have been donated by the Westworth-Dean Electric Co.

A large number of old and broken toys have been given the Scouts to repair for poor children, but more are needed, according to Butcher. Anyone having any such toys that they wish to give to this worthy cause are asked to call Scout headquarters, Main 1327, and a boy will be sent to collect them.

SCHOOL RALLIES FOR GAME

Friendly Spirit Displayed By South-Central

Last Wednesday Central students engaged in the greatest football pep meeting ever staged there. Principal H. W. Leach opened the meeting and turned the gathering over to E. A. Hancusson, manager of athletics, who said a few words and called on J. D. Dole, president of the athletic association, to take charge. According to Dole, he and Darrell Grove, vice president of the Senior class, journeyed over to South to encourage a good sportsmanlike feeling between the two schools. They spoke before the South students meeting and reported lots of pep. In return to their call two South students came to speak before the Central fans. Mark Githman and Helen Cahalier spoke to the students of Central and announced their confidence in South's football ability and Githman said that South's old slogan of "Beat Central" was changed to "Boost Lima." The effect this exchange of speakers had on the Thanksgiving game was evident in fine show of sportsmanship.

The program for the mass meeting was very original. A short act by Richard Current and Morris Johnson came first. In this "Little Mose" representing Central overweighed Current who was depicting South. The next act was completely put on by the "Mirror" staff. The parts were taken by Francis Christen, Franklin Dean, Paul Cohen, Douglas Dole, Robert Watson, Herbert Wise, and William Banta.

Coach Young was called to the platform and said a few words then cheer were led by Jack Morley, Robert Timmerman, Charles Kink, Marion Cost, Kathryn Bourke, and Paulina Gains.

The Mirror published the largest edition in its history of the paper. The edition was printed on red and green paper and was twelve pages.

No clubs met because of the large snake dance immediately after school and the vacation over Friday.

Franklin E. Dean, editor of the Mirror, went to a convention of the Central Interscholastic Press association at Madison, Wis. The publication will be edited by Paul Cohen this week.

Coach Young announces the beginning of basketball practice at seven o'clock Monday.

FURNACE MYSTERY AT STANDSTILL

Authorities Admit Being Without Tangible Clue

COLUMBUS. — (By Associated Press) — Probe of the Bexley furnace mystery was at a standstill today while County Prosecutor John R. King and his aides awaited the report of scientific experts, expected Monday or Tuesday.

All efforts of investigators to ascertain how the practically cremated body of Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, 50-year-old wife of the Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, pastor of Christ Evangelical Lutheran church came to be in the furnace of the parsonage on Nov. 17, have been to no avail. The body of the victim was found by the pastor late in the afternoon after he had spent the afternoon attending to business and pastoral calls.

In a statement issued shortly after noon today the prosecutor declared that he and his aides have run down every clue that has been given them and that their investigation has been as complete as possible, with no result.

Nothing can be done now, he said until the scientific report of Dr. H. M. Brundage, a pathologist and chemist C. F. Long, has been given to him. The experts by an experiment conducted with guinea pigs in the furnace with to establish definitely whether or not Mrs. Sheatsley was dead when she entered the furnace.

Blood taken from her lungs shows that she was dead according to chemist Long, who reported to King that he was unable to find any trace of carbon monoxide poisoning. Had she breathed after entering the furnace, he contends, the gas poisoning would have been evident to the blood.

King indicated today that additional scientific experts may be called into the case after Dr. Brundage and Mr. Long make their report. He refused to indicate for what purpose they might be used.

The Rev. Mr. Sheatsley has told King that he believes his wife committed suicide by casting herself into the furnace after becoming violently insane.

Prosecutor King maintains that she did not enter the furnace voluntarily.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO GIVE PLAY

"The Little Clodhopper" Will Be Presented Friday

On next Friday night the Y. W. C. A. Dramatic club will present "The Little Clodhopper," a three act comedy drama, at the Y. assembly room. The class has worked hard to make this one of the best presentations ever staged at the local association.

The story is built around a scheming widow, an innocent country girl and a dashing actress, showing the three phases of life, as the play unfolds itself. The first scene is a picture of the simple country life, the second a fashionable New York residence, and the third the commonplace or mediocre life of the average man.

The cast includes Betty Der, Mrs. Devona Walker, Chairman.

CATTLE RAISING IS AN ART

Cincinnati Woman Has Model Stock Farm

BIG PROFITS REALIZED

Monthly Milk Production Nets Woman About $1,100

CINCINNATI, Ohio.—The business of raising blue-blond dairy cattle is being made an art by a woman.

She is Mrs. Clara G. Drewery, not a Ohio woman of Cincinnati and owner of the Linden Terrace Farms at Millford, Ohio, 15 miles east of Cincinnati.

On this farm is a stock of 50 pure-bred Jerseys which have been bringing Mrs. Drewery championship prizes and a ribbon enough to pay more than her expenses. Just as the herd is artistically developed, so is the entire farm and its buildings.

The cattle stalls are clean and the barn is immaculate. In the barn itself is Mrs. Drewery's office with bookshelves, furniture and flowered curtains. A window overlooking the entire wall of the office are the ribbons, cups and other prizes her stock has won.

HIGH PRODUCTION
Out on the farm is a small herd of test cattle, well-fed, well-shaped and groomed to a shine. One of them, Majesty's Lustre 418681, a daughter of Imp. Oxford Majesty II, 152182, has just finished a 30-day test with 1,000 pounds of milk and 720 pounds of butterfat to her record. She holds a gold medal and a state record.

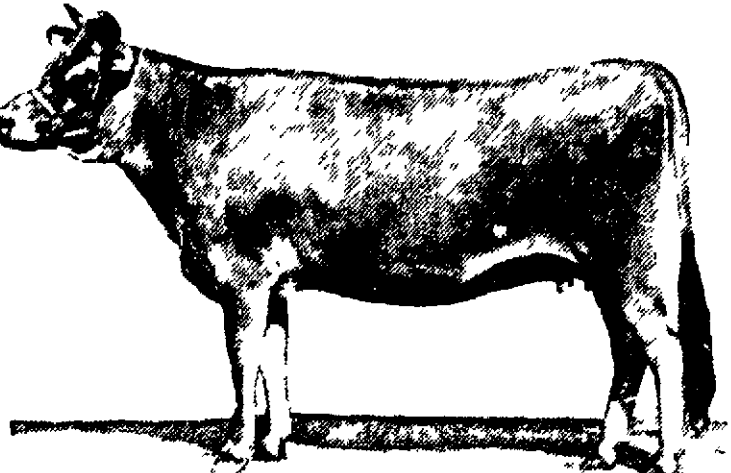

Ten years ago Mrs. Drewery knew nothing about cattle. Her husband had given her this farm and had left it to her to manage. She decided to take the winter course in agriculture at Ohio State University.

"There I learned that to have a productive farm I need stock," she says, "and in having stock I might as well have the best."

"I decided on Jerseys for their dairy, gentle and alert nature. Fortunately for a novice I chose a good dam and sire to begin with."

GOOD START
She started with an in-dam daughter of the famous Golden Fren's Noble 145782, and a son of the noted bull, Noble's Jolly Sultan. These gave her a wonderful herd to start with. Five years ago she bought another young sire, Tiddlywinks Majesty's Lad 167989, which has been her herd sire since.

As a result of her management Mrs. Drewery's stock has brought in hundreds of ribbons and other prizes. During the last showing

Two railroads buy her milk for their dining car service and she sells much more besides. Although this is secondary, she points out, her milk production in one month nets her about $1,100.

"Besides," she concludes, "I take great interest in working out a system of crop rotation and proper fertilization of the soil that I may not only grow sufficient food for my cows and horses, but that I may have some money crop as well."

Bogus Trade Checks Found

Police are searching for a counterfeiter who has taken up printing replicas of the "so much in-trade" checks of various clear stores.

A complaint against the man was filed at headquarters late Saturday by Kiley and Nichols, proprietors of the Habit Clearing store, 131 E. Market street.

According to the complaint, a man who claims Kinton his home and gives his name as L. C. Lamb, printed a large number of tickets, each of which calls for payment in the form of 20 cents in trade, and passed nearly 300 of them at the clear store.

His game was discovered when owners of the store investigated the flood of tickets and found that about 300 of them were without the trade mark of the printing company.

CANADIAN WHEAT SWAYS PRICE

Market Controlled by Annual Output in North

COLUMBUS, O.—(Special)—Canada, and the weather up there, will bear watching in the future if American wheat growers want to get some idea of the prospects for a good price on wheat.

This is the message sent out by the United States department of agriculture at Ohio State university here.

Ralph I. Taber, extension specialist, explains it this way: "We have a wheat crop this year 30,000,000 bushels larger than last year, and still the price is about 70 per cent higher. The reason, at least part of it, lies in Canada."

"The three prairie provinces of Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba, now have more to say about the world's wheat price than any other section of the world. It is to their misfortune to us that we can lay our food fortune and a favorable price for wheat."

In 1923 Canada produced 474,190,000 bushels of wheat, a far larger estimated production is 522,042,000. Her normal needs for home consumption and seed run from 80 to 100 millions. So there is a difference of about 200,000,000 bushels entering the world market. This difference is a large amount than any other country exports.

"From now on when considering prospects for a fair price the American producer had best watch the weather in Canada. So long as we export nearly 100,000,000 bushels Canada with her ample land suited to wheat only one-fourth utilized, will, with or without tariff, have a direct bearing on the American wheat price."

FARM BODY IN ELECTION

Directors to Be Selected Next Saturday

OTTAWA.—Notices have been sent out for the election of directors of the Farm Body of the United States department of agriculture at the capital city.

The election will be held on Saturday, December 13, at 2:30 p. m. in the main hall of the department of agriculture.

The object was to find a variety that resists the food rot disease of wheat which has appeared in certain parts of Kansas.

Fewer Turkeys This Year

WASHINGTON.—(Special)—There are from 1 to 20 per cent fewer turkeys on the market this year than last reports to the department of agriculture.

Most birds have been hatched too late, so that many intended for Thanksgiving market will be immature and light in weight. Or more than usual will be held over for Christmas.

Illinois, Minnesota and Tennessee especially have suffered such a decrease. Spring conditions were late, cold and wet. Many young birds were chilled and died shortly after hatching.

500 WHEAT VARIETIES

More than 500 varieties of winter wheat were planted last season on the Kansas State Agricultural College farm at Manhattan.

The object was to find a variety that resists the food rot disease of wheat which has appeared in certain parts of Kansas.

The Allen-Co. Board of Health will have their regular monthly meeting on Monday at 1:00 p. m. at Memorial building. Business session will be held and the next year's work discussed.

WHAT'S IT?

Its papa was a turkey and its mama was a hen. So it's called a "turkey." Its crow is partly a gobble. A whole flock of these "turkeys" is being raised commercially at St. Johns, Ore. They sell at a good figure as poultry, due to their increased weight.

FARM FACTS

More than eight million cattle in the United States are now under government tubercular supervision. State and federal veterinarians test nearly half a million monthly.

America now has an agricultural commissioner at Mexico City. He is Dr. S. O. Fladness of the bureau of animal industry.

Annual loss to tobacco growers from disease is estimated at $25,000,000 by the Department of Agriculture.

Embargo against Spanish grapes will continue indefinitely following exposure of a fruit fly infested shipment going to the Dominican Republic thru New York.

Loss from grasshoppers has been below that of the last two years, reports the bureau of entomology.

Tarax and yautias, potato-like plants, have been adopted for cultivation as annual crops in the south thru efforts of the Department of Agriculture.

Fewer sheep and lambs will be fed for market this winter, says the Department of Agriculture, than last year. This is due to reduced feeding operations in the West.

Iodine's rice crop this year is expected to exceed that of last year, according to a report from

The International Institute of Agriculture at Rome to the Department of Agriculture.
Not a single redeeming trait, in its food habits at least, is the veridict passed on the prairie dog by the biological survey of the Department of Agriculture.
Number of bearing prune trees in the United States has increased from nine to 12 million in the last 10 years.
The right weight of a turkey is not less than 30 pounds. Weights up to 50 or 100 pounds are usually heavy of condition or quality.

Gas Company Merger

Merger of the various natural and artificial gas properties in and about Lima has just been approved by The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and the new company thus formed, West Ohio Gas Co., takes pleasure in announcing to its patrons the coordination of the properties in the interest of better and more efficient service to the public.

The companies included in this merger—

THE LIMA GAS LIGHT CO.
THE LIMA NATURAL GAS CO.
THE WAPAKONETA NATURAL GAS CO.
THE ST. MARYS GAS CO.
THE CELINA GAS CO.

Bringing together of the various companies, heretofore owned and operated by identical stockholders, is a step toward efficiency and in no wise will affect service as it has been rendered except in the direction of a general betterment.

The five cities served by the separate companies have received their gas supply from a common source and this will be continued.

The central office of the new company will be located in Lima, but branches will be maintained as heretofore for the convenience of customers in the different cities.

The new company takes pleasure in announcing to its patrons in all of the cities served that it is in a position now to furnish an adequate supply of gas for domestic and industrial purposes at all times. One standard of service will apply to all communities—the best service engineering skill can make possible.

The Officers of the New Company Are

SAMUEL INSULL, Chairman
GEORGE F. MITCHELL, Treasurer
EMMETT R. CURTIN, President
WILLIAM D. BOONE, Secretary
SAMUEL INSULL, Jr., Vice President
FRANK L. PRINGLE, Asst. Secty. and Asst. Treas.

NATIONS JOIN IN RESEARCH

Weather Information to Be Sent from Paris

WASHINGTON — (Special) — Radio research is one activity in which all the large countries are co-operating.

The United States, England, France, Germany and other large European nations are conducting a series of tests which would make for better radio transmission and easier reception.

The weather is the primal topic on which all countries are working together. The Eiffel Tower at Paris is the central distributing point for weather information. To it go reports from all other important countries and from it comes information to help radio progress in this field throughout the world.

England and America at present have joined hands in checking up on the accuracy of wave lengths or frequencies in transmission of all kinds. The British radio research committee has made arrangements with the U. S. Bureau of Standards to check up on transmission frequencies and interchange the information obtained.

While the United States is studying such problems as static, fading, code interference and other troubles the British committee and departments of other countries are conducting practically the same research work.

In England some 300 amateurs are taking part in an investigation on fading of signals. They are also sending in reports on the nature of static encountered in their districts.

The study of atmospheres by the British scientists has brought about an expedition thru the tropics, in the Indian Ocean and Egypt. This was to learn the effects of atmospheres in various parts of the globe.

Another topic of research is direction finding, as deeply studied in America as in England, France and Italy. Data on errors in modern direction-finding apparatus have been obtained with the view of correcting the instruments.

POWER PETITION TURNED DOWN

NEW YORK — (Special) — Although divided among themselves on the matter of broadcasting, the casting of the country have turned down a request to join in a campaign against it.

ACROSS PACIFIC

RADIO BIG AID IN POLITICS

Presidential Campaign Reviewed by Judge Davis

WASHINGTON — (Special) — "Radio influence."

That's the name given by Judge S. B. Davis, head of commerce department radio activities, to the new kind of acquaintanceship formed by listeners-in with the great and near-great these days.

He explains: "This phase of radio, which has been developing for several years, came out fully during the presidential campaign.

"The people actually know their candidates—by ear. They became not only familiar with their politics and policies, but came to know them personally thru their voices.

"This radio intimacy, brought out by the election, is now a factor in all listening-in. Suppose a man tells of his experiences in exploring the arctic. His radio audience not only learns of the experiences, but becomes personally acquainted with the man who had them.

"The election also brought out the fact that radio is really coming into its own.

"Just how many sets there are in the country is impossible to estimate accurately. The most conservative guess runs around

JAPS HEAR U. S. PROGRAMS

Radio Stations Send Music Over Pacific Ocean

SAN FRANCISCO — (Special) — Getting Pacific Coast broadcasting stations is the latest radio tune in the orient.

Checkup on the recent international test broadcast from KGO, the complete two-hour broadcast was successfully heard in Japan, 5000 miles away. But not being versed in what they term "American English," the Japanese fans were unable to report back the speech and note the music played.

This is the first time a complete program has been sent from America to Japan.

Punctually at 6 p. m. Japan time, the radioophone from KGO began to be heard loudly and distinctly and continued for two hours," says a letter from Hitaro Yokoyama, Japanese minister of communications.

"The hearers were so surprised at the unexpected loudness of the phone that they could not believe their ears. The speech, easy American English, and music were the clearest ever heard in this country."

Operators of the Electro-Technical Laboratory's experimental station at Hiraizo successfully picked up the entire international test with a super-heterodyne receiver. Hiraizo is 500 miles northeast of Tokyo, and commands the Pacific Ocean.
